SUBJECT: NORJAK

Re memorandum of SA [REDACTED] dated 8/11/72, concerning possible suspect [REDACTED]

b6
b7C

On 8/15/72, [REDACTED]
Van Nuys, California, was contacted by the writer in an effort to locate and interview [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] was extremely cooperative in advising her son [REDACTED] in the Los Angeles City Schools, however has recently moved into an apartment of his own. She advised she is either with him or in telephonic contact with him almost daily, has never known him to visit, nor is he familiar with the Northwest. She advised that her son had taken up sky-diving, and jumped on many occasions, but has not done so for the past one or two years. [REDACTED] telephonically contacted her son and asked him to come to her apartment.

b6
b7C

On the same date, [REDACTED] was interviewed and advised he could not recall his exact whereabouts on 11/24/71, stating that although he often eats dinner with his mother, he does not recall specifically if he ate Thanksgiving dinner with her on 11/25/71. He stated that since school was not in session on those dates, he would definitely have been in the Van Nuys area, and believes he and his mother went to a local restaurant and had Thanksgiving dinner.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] was described as follows from observation:

Following the interview of [ ] was recontacted and separately advised that she recalls having been with her son at a local restaurant on Thanksgiving Day, 1971.

In view of the fact that [ ] was referred as a suspect to this office, based on the name of D. B. COOPER, and since it is confidentially known that this name has no connection whatsoever with this matter, it does not appear that [ ] warrants further consideration as a logical suspect at this time.

[Redacted] stated she was a relative of ART LINKLETTER, the well-known television personality. She spoke rapidly with a distinct French accent and made disjointed statements about how she had deduced by reading articles on various murders and hijackings that [Redacted] ART LINKLETTER, have been responsible for the Zodiac murders, the mutilation murders of farm workers in Yuba City, California, the TATE - LA BIANCA murders in Los Angeles and the ax murders which took place in a national park in California. When it was pointed out to her that in some of these matters the perpetrators have been identified and convicted of the crimes, she replied very positively that the police have identified the wrong persons as no police agency will touch ART LINKLETTER or his family.

Re: NORJAK

Lab. No. D-720928050 LL

Specimens received 9/28/72

Q49 Envelope bearing hand printed address "Los Angeles Times Times-Mirror Square Los Angeles, Calif."

Q50 Accompanying two-page hand printed letter, first page beginning "Dear Sirs, [redacted] is Dead. "D. B. Cooper"..." b6 b7C

Q51 Second page beginning "Everything I've said here is..." and signed [redacted]

Result of examination:

It was not determined whether the questioned writing on Q49 through Q51 was prepared by any of the persons involved in the preparation of the questioned material previously received in this matter. A conclusion could not be reached in this regard because of a lack of comparable writing and distortion in portions of the questioned material previously received; however, nothing of particular significance was noted in the limited comparison which could be conducted.

Q49 through Q51 were not identified in the Anonymous Letter File. Copies of these specimens have been added to this file for future reference.

No watermarks, indented writing, or other features were found on Q49 through Q51 which would be of value in determining the source of these specimens.

The submitted evidence was photographed and will be returned separately.

EVERYTHING I'VE SAID HERE IS TRUE. I COULD'VE TOLD YOU THAT WE GAVE EVERY BIT OF THE MONEY TO CHARITY, BUT WE DIDN'T. LAST JANUARY WE FLEW TO EUROPE AND AROUND THE WORLD. [REDACTED] WANTED TO SEE THE WORLD BEFORE HE DIED. THAT WAS THE LAST TRIP WE EVER TOOK TOGETHER.

b6
b7C

HIS LAST [REDACTED] DAYS WERE SPENT COMPLETELY BEDRIDDEN. DISEASE EATING HIS INSIDES OUT AND PAIN SHOOTING THROUGH HIS BODY, HE NEVER ONCE LOST HIS COURAGE. THE ONLY DAY HE MISSED AN ENTRY IN HIS DIARY WAS THE DAY HE PASSED AWAY. I THINK YOU WILL BE INTERESTED IN HIS LAST WRITTEN WORDS.

.... REALLY WEAK TODAY.... MOTHER CAME BY THIS MORNING. I LOVE HER.... LIFE BUT SO IMPORTANT THAT I SHOULD IGNORE DEATH, NOT VICE VERSA. ALL MY LIFE I HAVE DENIED DEATH THE ATTENTION HE NOW DEMANDS. BETTER THAT HE TAKE ME, THAN THE LIFE FROM ANYONE ELSE...."

DEAR SIBS,

[REDACTED] IS DEAD. "D.B. COOPER" PASSED AWAY ON

WHILE HE WAS ALIVE, [REDACTED] REFUSED TO LET ME TELL THE PUBLIC THAT HE WASN'T REALLY BAD. HE DIED WITH THE AMERICAN PEOPLE THINKING HE WAS JUST ANOTHER 'SKYJACKING TERRORIST.' BUT HE WASN'T.

TO ME; AND THOSE OF YOU WHO KNEW HIM, HE WAS NOT "A RUTHLESS CRIMINAL". HE WAS A KIND AND GENTLE HUMAN BEING. HE LOVED LIFE AND EVERYTHING ABOUT IT.
WHEN HE FOUND OUT THAT HE HAD BUT MONTHS TO LIVE,
HE FACED THE NEWS VERY BRAVELY. TALKING DID NO GOOD.
WHAT COULD I SAY? JUST TWO YEARS BEFORE, HE LOST HIS WIFE AND DAUGHTER. I COULD SEE A CHANGE COMING OVER HIM. HE WAS Faced WITH DEATH, BUT SOME-THING ELSE WAS ON HIS MIND. WHEN HE FIRST TOLD ME ABOUT THE JOB, I THOUGHT HE WAS JOKING. HE WASN'T.
AFTER ALL, HE HAD NOTHING TO LOSE AND PLENTY TO GAIN.

HOWEVER, MONEY WASN'T THE OBJECT. [REDACTED] b6 b7C

[REDACTED] KNEW THAT HE COULD DEMAND ALMOST ANY AMOUNT AND HE'D PROBABLY GET IT. IN FACT, WE GAVE ALMOST $168,000 OF THE RANSOM MONEY AWAY TO CHARITIES AND FAMILIES IN NEED. HE PAID OFF ALL OF [REDACTED] HOSPITAL
BILLS AND GAVE [REDACTED] HE TOLD [REDACTED]
WE MADE IT BIG UP IN CANADA LAST YEAR, BUT I'M SURE [REDACTED] GUESSED THE TRUTH. [REDACTED] NEVER SAID NOTHING

THAT [REDACTED] BELIEVED HIM.

Q54 Second page of two-page hand printed letter beginning "EVERYTHING I'VE SAID HERE IS TRUE..." and signed [redacted]

Result of examination:

It was concluded that Q52 through Q54 were prepared by the writer of Q49 through Q51, submitted by Los Angeles with a communication dated 9/25/72.

It could not be determined whether the writer of Q49 through Q54 was involved in the preparation of the other specimens received in this case, because of a lack of comparable writing and distortion in portions of the material received in this matter.

No watermarks, indented writing, or other features were found on Q52 through Q54 which would be of value in determining the source of these specimens.

The submitted evidence was photographed and will be returned separately.

SOME 'D. B. COOPER' GOT $30,000*Weekly's Hijacking Story Turns Into Tall Tale--Later*BY ALEXANDER AUERBACH

Times Staff Writer

"What happens to people is news. What happens to reporters isn't," a cigar-chewing Boston city editor used to shout at reporters who turned in first-person accounts of events they had witnessed.

But what happens if the reporter is (A) the sleuth who solved one of the most publicized crimes in recent history, or (B) the victim of the cleverest hoax since Clifford Irving's bogus autobiography of Howard Hughes, or (C) both?

LA, a new weekly newspaper serving the Los Angeles area, just concluded a three-installment series recounting the "solution" of the successful $200,000 hijacking of a Northwest Orient Airlines jet last Nov. 24.

Only at the end of the series did LA tell its readers that the whole account was an apparent hoax that cost the paper's backers $30,000.

Karl Fleming, LA's editor, says he chose to tell the story in a way that some readers found misleading in order to let them vicariously undergo the same experience he did. Without realizing it, they were reading a story about Fleming, not simply by him.

The first installment told of D. B. Cooper ("an ordinary, God-fearing, patriotic, country club-oriented, upward-climbing WASP engineer") leaving his suburban Seattle home with a briefcase stuffed with two wigs, an altimeter and compass, a makeup kit, gloves and three red flares wired to look like a dynamite bomb.

Fleming, a respected veteran ~~wsmaj~~ (formerly bureau chief and contributing editor with Newsweek for 11 years) went on to describe every detail of Cooper's hijacking, in an article that ran some 4,000 words and took five pages of the tabloid, not counting a cover photo and a last-page teaser for the next installment.

One illustration showed Xerox copies of three $20 bills given to Fleming as proof of Cooper's identity; their serial numbers matched those on the FBI's list of bills that made up the ransom paid by the airline.

The second piece described how Fleming got the story. While still on Newsweek's staff, he put a classified

ad in newspapers around Oregon and Washington, asking Cooper to contact him.

Later, while Fleming and millionaire Max Palevsky were organizing LA, an intermediary offered to put the newsman in contact with Cooper—for $30,000.
Palevsky put up the money and Fleming flew up to meet Cooper, dragging along two tape recorders, a motion picture camera, two cameramen and $30,- 000 in cash.

The headline on the third and final installment read: "Is D. B. Cooper the real D. B. Cooper?" There is considerable reason for doubt, since the men who police say talked to Fleming — and who allegedly took his $30,000 — have been arrested by the FBI on charges of defrauding Fleming of his money.

Arrested Before Story

The arrest took place on May 2, long before Fleming wrote his story for LA.

Why did Fleming publish the story in a manner that led some readers, unaware of the fraud arrest, to believe that the early installments were the real thing?

Fleming doesn't feel that the initial installment was deceptive, noting that "there were disclaimers in it," referring to two lines near the end: "The foregoing narrative was related to me by the man I believed to be Cooper . . ." and, "Doubts about whether I had the right man would arise later. . ."

"I wanted the reader to experience it just exactly as I did," Fleming says.

"It's an adventure story, as much about me as about D. B. Cooper, and I wanted to put the reader in my shoes. If the reader was reasonably alert, he would have seen in the press that these guys had been busted by the FBI."

If the man Fleming interviewed was not D. B.
Cooper — and Fleming isn't totally sure he was not the hijacker—then he was a masterful con man, to hear Fleming tell it.

Paid at First Meeting

"I gave him the whole $30,000 at our first meeting, after I was convinced that this was D. B. Cooper," Fleming says. "At that point a con man would have taken the money and run like hell, but this guy, Cooper, came back and submitted himself to eight hours of taped interviews, 30 minutes of filmed interviews and still photographs. His intermediary signed a contract (saying the $30,000 would be used for Cooper's legal defense) with his real name and left his fingerprints all over the contract."

The story was to have been in the opening issue of LA. To avoid charges of aiding a fugitive from justice, Fleming turned his material over to the FBI
10 days before publication (he had told Cooper not to tell him anything he didn't want the police to know.) Included were Xerox copies of the $20 bills Fleming had been shown as proof of Cooper's identity. The serial numbers matched those on the list of ransom bills but FBI documents experts said that the photocopies indicated that the bills were counterfeit.

With all the information Fleming's subjects had supplied, the FBI had no trouble rounding them up.

With their trial scheduled to begin Nov. 27, Fleming says he still finds it "difficult to accept" the possibility that he was duped. "I asked that guy questions no con man could have prepared for," he says. "I went over him like a vacuum cleaner."

Fleming notes that "Cooper" went into detail on matters of air navigation and parachute procedure—unaware that Fleming is a licensed private pilot with some 700 hours in the air.

Because of the magnitude of the story and because of its intended role as the kickoff piece for his new newspaper, Fleming says, he was extremely careful in his questioning. "At the risk of sounding immodest," he adds, "I wouldn't want to do anything to damage my own very good reputation as a reporter."

He has an ingenious, mirror-within-a-mirror theory of his own.

"I'm not saying that the FBI was wrong, and I would never suggest that they would deliberately distort the facts—though if I, one lonely reporter, could get the story when 8,000 FBI agents couldn't, then that's not the kind of publicity that J. Edgar Hoover, then alive, would want for the FBI."

Noting that "Cooper" was aware the information would be published and get to the police, Fleming says, "It is very, very difficult for me to accept the fact that a mind brilliant enough to concoct a story as sophisticated as this one this guy told me, would be stupid enough to turn around and expose himself to capture this way.

"I don't exclude the possibility that he was both smart enough to pull off the hijacking, sell me the story and spread enough false clues in the story so it would not look right and the FBI would say he isn't the hijacker. So, if he does do any time, it's for fraud, not for hijacking. And when he comes out, the $200,000 is still there."

In that case, of course, Fleming's series would be a true account of the hijacking, as readers of Part One might have thought, not the account of how a reporter got duped, as Part Three indicates, or perhaps it would be both.

In any event, Fleming has no regrets about the adventure. "I've always been a reporter who takes risks. You don't get the plums at the top of the tree unless you jump high."

Fleming may have some lingering doubts about the man he interviewed, but Platyus Publications, publisher of LA, appears to have none. It has filed a $30,000 civil suit against the men arrested by the FBI, claiming it was defrauded because the men were not the people they claimed to be.

Industrialist Palevsky Weds Lynda Edelstein

Industrialist Max Palevsky, a former director and chairman of the executive committee of Xerox Corp., and Miss Lynda Edelstein, daughter of William Edelstein, a former Los Angeles manufacturer, and Mrs. Edelstein, were married Friday in the Leo Baeck Temple in West Los Angeles.

The ceremony performed by Rabbi Leonard Beerman was witnessed by members of the families and was followed by a brunch at Hotel Bel-Air.

Palevsky was cochairman of McGovern's national finance committee and a big contributor to McGovern's campaign.

Palevsky is the publisher of L.A., a weekly newspaper started in July of 1972 and he is chairman of the board of Rolling Stone, a bimonthly rock music-oriented newspaper.

He is the father of two children, Nicholas, 16, and Madeleine, 11, by his first marriage to the former Joan Yates. This marriage ended in divorce in 1969. His second marriage to the former Sara Jane Brown ended in divorce in 1971. There were no children.

The bride was graduated from UCLA and has a master's degree from USC. She is an adviser with the Los Angeles City Schools.

The couple will take a deferred wedding trip to Europe and Morocco in December. The couple will live in Palevsky's home in Bel-Air.

[redacted] was wearing a white shirt with tie and no jacket. He was taller than [redacted] somewhat and was wearing a full beard that was short. He said that they understood that I was looking for them all over town and I said that I was simply asking questions. They indicated that they had enough publicity about the matter already and that my asking questions around town was ruining their reputations. I then reminded [redacted] that in fact he had gone to the Bremerton Sun after he had spoken with you. [redacted] was somewhat flustered by that comment and then turned toward [redacted] and said that [redacted] was certainly not looking for any publicity. [redacted] put on a great show of appearing hurt and having his ego damaged. They were quite upset about my asking questions about them around town and they said that [redacted]

b6

[redacted] [redacted] said that he would see what he could do about stopping me from [redacted] and he said that he would do this by asking his attorney what could be done. It should be noted that [redacted] was served coffee at the bar and that the waitress who is known as [redacted] said to [redacted] when he came in I'll get you your coffee. [redacted] was served a drink. I asked both [redacted] about what had happened in regards to the whole affair. They indicated that they had expected to hear from you since May 2, 1972, and I believe that this is the date that they were both arrested. He said that if you were being watched or felt that you were being watched, he felt that you could have certainly sent someone else in your place to speak with them. I told them that we had contemplated this move but figured that it would not pay off insofar as they were both charged with criminal counts and would not discuss anything with us. They did state, however, that if I would have simply contacted them when I arrived in town that they would have told me everything if I simply would have contacted them first. I then pointed out to [redacted] that there were many inconsistencies in [redacted] that he had given to you. He said that you had gotten [redacted] and I said that I could prove that his background did not match the [redacted] comment was, "so what".

[ ] then suggested that I should read the July issue of "Moneysworth Magazine" written by Ginsberg. He said there was an article in there about honesty and then went on relating something to the fact that every time a policeman makes an arrest we all feel more honest. He evidently was trying to make some sort of philosophical comment about honesty and lying but I'm sure that [ ] could take his own advice.

b7C

[ ] said that his reputation was at stake and that his family had been in the area for [ ]

b6

"They also said that I was going around town saying things. [ ] claimed that I said that I was [ ] and I said that was not the case. I said that I had stated that I was [ ] and that I had made inquiries about [ ] in the [ ] I also told [ ] that I had gotten all of my information from the man at the bank who [ ] and who [ ] At that point [ ] asked, [ ] and [ ] said, "Oh, you know that [ ] asked if I knew that the case was being litigated, I said yes, that I understood that it was suppose to be in litigation at the present time.

b6
b7C

"They said that they had numerous reports on where I had been and what I had been doing. They said they knew that I was talking with the [ ] that I had been at the Court House and in fact they knew that I was standing waiting for a cab that afternoon.

b6
b7C

"They asked me where I was staying and I gave them the name of the motel and phone number in Seattle.

[ ] said that the FBI in Bremerton knows both of them by first-name basis. [ ] also complained that the FBI took his sunglasses and dug up his backyard. [ ] said that he had been getting extortion notes and threats and threatening phone calls to kill him.

"On a couple of occasions [ ] told [ ] to keep quiet. [ ] asked if I was principally doing a dossier on him and I said that I was doing one on both of them but the emphasis was certainly on him. I believe that [ ] were tipped off to my presence which had been principally my plan, by a cocktail waitress by the name of [ ]. Her first name was [ ] and [ ] is simply a nickname. She claims to be [ ]

b6
b7C

"The dinner waitress who served us in the restaurant portion of the cocktail lounge was a [ ] and she was the [ ] left at about 6:00 P.M. after they said there was really nothing further to talk about and that I was simply trying to get information on them and I would probably hold everything against them."

It is noted that the subject had a checking account at the Olympic State Bank at Port Angeles, Washington. At the time of the [redacted] which was about [redacted]

[redacted] he gave a residence address as [redacted]

I have also noted this residence address for his father,

b6
b7C

He also indicated that at the time of the [redacted] [redacted] that he was employed by Halverson-Lents Trans Canyon Pipeline Company.

b6
b7C

He claimed real estate, an address of [redacted] in Port Angeles, Washington, described as [redacted] Townsite of Port Angeles, situated in Clallam County, Washington. He said that his equity was about [redacted] in that property.

b6
b7C

The [redacted] for the trustee in [redacted] was [redacted] Port Townsend, Washington.

b6
b7C

The [redacted] in the case was [redacted]

The [redacted] for the trustee did a considerable amount of investigation and was quite suspicious of the business dealings of [redacted] and his father, [redacted] I

b6
b7C

quote from the trustee's report to the [redacted] "The [redacted] and his father appeared to be [redacted] in their business dealings and despite the denials of any liability or responsibility on the [redacted] part, the [redacted] father was ultimately persuaded by actions and statements of your petitioner to pay to the Estate [redacted]"

b6
b7C

The trustee worked a compromise with an [redacted] whereby [redacted] would pay the [redacted] estate [redacted] if the trustee would withdraw from a foreclosure action that [redacted] had against property that the [redacted] was purchasing. The original purchase price of the real property was [redacted] and there was considerable discussion as to the legitimacy of the purchase of this property in regards to the [redacted]

b6
b7C

I also quote from [redacted] again, "The background to the controversy begins in 1966 when the [redacted] borrowed [redacted] interest from one [redacted] and executed in addition to a promissory note a mortgage as to certain real property in Clallam County, Washington. [redacted] later started a mortgage action to recover the amount loaned. Your trustee intervened in that action and obtained an order vacating a prior order of default as against the [redacted]. The trustee set up the affirmative defense of usury and the additional defense that the description of land upon the mortgage document was defective. The matter was first set for trial on December of 1970 and then upon request of Plaintiff's counsel was continued over to February of 1971.

b6
b7C

He earlier, upon 2.180 examination stated that once the proposed written loan papers had been identified as user's and the user had been purged or voided by a new promissory note, he, the [redacted] agreed orally that the [redacted] would pay [redacted] in addition to the [redacted] loaned and to the [redacted] interest charge. [redacted] denies that there had ever been such an oral agreement. The [redacted] says she has no recollection at all. The [redacted] now says that he has only vague memories of this conversation at the time the promissory note was signed. In addition, the [redacted] voracity is less than crystal."

b6
b7C

There was an [redacted] of land owned by the [redacted] during the [redacted] proceedings. I believe this particular parcel of land is the land on which the [redacted] was situated. The legal description is as follows:

b6
b7C

[redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted]

b6

in Clallam County, Washington. The appraised value of the property was [redacted] [redacted] address is given as [redacted] Port Angeles, Washington. Phone is [redacted]. The [redacted] was made August 6, 1970. The property is located on [redacted] in Clallam County and consisted of two parcels of unimproved land, approximately ten acres and fifteen acres each. Apparently this was not the property on which the [redacted] was situated.

b6
b7C

It is also noted that the property was situated approximately 10-20 miles west of Port Angeles, Washington.

In a motion filed by [redacted] on [redacted] Request for the Appraisal, he gives the following facts.

b6
b7C

"Since the time of intervention your Petitioner has visited the afore described security and was not impressed with the same. In addition, a lot of real property in Kitsap County, Washington, which was provided to the mortgagee as addition security apparently has been lost to the mortgagee. The situate is rather very [redacted]

b6

[redacted] The [redacted] and his father, [redacted] in 1966 persuaded one [redacted] to loan to the [redacted]. The [redacted] then gave to [redacted] different types of security for repayment for the loan. One security was a mortgage in the acreage west of Port Angeles which the [redacted]

[redacted] Another security was a [redacted] which presently pays [redacted] per month to the mortgagee, but is not enough to cover the interest owing on the mortgage debt. A third possible security was one certain lot in Kitsap County, Washington. That lot has been sold by the [redacted] shortly before [redacted] but the transaction has appeared to be normal until approximately a year later. It was learned by the Petitioner that the grantee was the [redacted] of the [redacted] 2180 proceedings to examine the [redacted] had been without success because the Kitsap County Sheriff cannot locate him. In the meantime, the Kitsap

County lot was sold at tax sale [redacted] at which time the [redacted] the property, completely unknown to the mortgagee. The same mortgagee is presently the Plaintiff in the mortgage foreclosure action in Clallam Washington, in which the trustee has intervened. In view of the foregoing it would be in the best interest of this estate and its unsecured creditors to fully review the status of the trustee's involvement in the Clallam County litigation. To do so, it is necessary to have a reliable appraisal as to the value of the Clallam County real property security."

b6
b7c

It should be pointed out that [redacted] is the [redacted] for the trustee and that the trustee is a [redacted]

b6
b7c

On November 24, 1969, there was an order authorizing and approving a compromise. The [redacted] for the trustee allowed the following to take place: "Ordered that the Petition be granted and thereby trustee is hereby granted to accept [redacted] and a Quit Claim Deed from [redacted] with the trustee as grantee as to the following described real property:

b6
b7c

[redacted] and in exchange for the monetary payment and quit claim deed, the trustee is authorized to permanently waive any claim that trustee may have against [redacted] on the basis of fraudulent conveyance or on the basis of any other legal theory as to the following described [redacted] property: [redacted]

It is noted that the [redacted] had been listed for sale by the father at an original asking price of [redacted] and had been reduced to [redacted] and had remained unsold for a period of an excess of one year. There have been encumbrances against the [ ] exceeding the sum of [ ]

b6
b7c

b6
b7C

On October 22, 1969, there was a petition relieved to compromise controversy. This concerned the [ ] in question and I quote from the body of this motion: "Nature of controversy. [ ] the [ ] as vendees executed a real estate contract with one [ ] as vendor, for the purchase at a price of [ ] on or before January 2, 1971, and a [ ] interest per annum due January 2, of each year. The real property which is a subject of this dispute is more particularly described as follows." The legal description is the one that was described just a few paragraphs above and is the [ ] in question.

b6
b7C

Shortly thereafter, the [ ] commenced to improve the subject real property by building a [ ] thereon with an adjoining [ ]. In doing so, he borrowed money and purchased on credit and incurred a substantial indebtedness. On [ ] a point in time after the subject real property was substantially improved, the [ ] assigned their interest under their real estate contract to the [ ]

b6
b7C

[ ] now claim title to the subject real property on the basis of the [ ] assignment. More than a year later, namely [ ] the [ ]

The [ ] for the trustee then goes on into lengthy legal explanations why the trustee should become involved in this particular controversy, because of various legal theories of [ ] of property in regards to the [ ] hearing.

The [ ] was served with a subpoena duces tecum on March 7, 1969 at what appears to be Grand Canyon, Arizona.

b6
b7C

The [ ] testified on November 6, 1968, in a [ ] hearing. He indicated that he was presently residing in a town called Grand Canyon at the [ ]

b6
b7C

[ ] He indicated that he was a [ ] for a construction company, which was putting a pipeline along the side of the canyon wall from one side of the canyon to the other. He indicated that it was an 8-inch aluminum water pipeline, and it was all done with helicopters. He said that the pipeline started from Arrow Springs and goes nine miles down Bright Angel Canyon across to the Colorado River and to a reservoir. He said that the project started in the Grand Canyon the prior April, and that after the project that he intended to go to a job in [redacted]. He said that he was married and living with his wife and that he had [redacted] children and that the oldest was [redacted] years old. He said that he was purchasing a house in Port Angeles, Washington, at [redacted] prior to the moving to the Grand Canyon, and he did not know whether foreclosure action had been started on that property while he was gone. He said that the prior owner was an [redacted], and that he had about [redacted] equity in the home. He also said that he owned a [redacted].

b6
b7C

He explained that he had a lease purchase on the [redacted]. He indicated that while he was [redacted] his father stepped into his shoes as the owner of this [redacted].

b6
b7C

He also testified that he had been employed by Mackey-Lewis of Port Angeles for three and one-half years and that he was fired from that job. He indicated that he was terminated about May 5, 1967. He said that at the time he was working in that firm he had a front-end loader, which was a heavy piece of equipment.

Apparently, at one time Cascade Industrial Loan had a mortgage on the [redacted]. He said that the [redacted] was about 25 to 26 acres.

b6
b7C

He also testified that he went to Alaska in attempt to make enough money to pay his attorneys. He doesn't say when he was in Alaska.

There was a [redacted] that was filed on [redacted].

b6
b7C

As state of affairs, he said that he had a checking account at the National Bank of Commerce in Bremerton Branch and that he had a checking account at the Olympic State Bank in Port Angeles, Washington.

He has noted that there was claim in the amount of [redacted] from the Clallam Adjustment Corporation. The claim was filed by a [redacted] and their offices are located at 111 North Oak Street in Port Angeles, Washington.

b6
b7C

There is a claim in the amount of [redacted] from Carroll Realty Company in Port Angeles, Washington. The money was loaned to enable the [redacted] to purchase and occupy a

b6
b7C

a single family residence in Port Angeles. Apparently, Carroll Realty, Inc. is located at 111 West Railroad, Port Angeles, Washington. The claim was filed by [redacted] There was a claim filed by the Kitsap County Bank, East Bremerton Branch for [redacted] the money loaned at installment note secured by [redacted]

b6
b7C

There was a Mobile Oil Corporation collection account in the amount of [redacted] on account [redacted] The claim was from an [redacted] [redacted] Los Angeles, California.

b6
b7C

There are a number of exhibits and some of these are checks from [redacted] producers of forest products, [redacted] Silverdale, Washington and signed by [redacted] In the left hand corner it shows [redacted] The checks were drawn at the East Bremerton Branch of the Kitsap County Bank, Bremerton, Washington with check [redacted]

b6
b7C

There was a most interesting receipt in the exhibits which is dated July 15, 1966 from an [redacted] received from [redacted] Sequim P.D. (it apparently is Sequim Police Department). The receipt was for [redacted] and the address apparently for the father, or perhaps [redacted] (I am not certain) is [redacted] Port Angeles.

b6
b7C

There appears to be a receipt for [redacted] from a [redacted] [redacted] Sequim, Washington, dated July 23, 1966. This is probably a receipt for services on the criminal action.

b6
b7C

There is a very interesting ledger, called the [redacted] [redacted] and there is this interesting notation in 1966, dated August 8, 1966. To pick up various [redacted] [redacted] I hope you appreciate the humor in that.

b6
b7C

I also find an affidavit in real estate excise tax receipt

[redacted]
[redacted] Bremerton, Washington. It indicates that [redacted] [redacted] Port Angeles, Washington, are selling to [redacted]

b6
b7C

certain property. The date of the instrument and the date of the sale is [redacted] It is interesting to know that under the caption for gross sales price, they have as following: [redacted] The [redacted] for the trustee made much of this point later in the court action. It appears from the legal description that this was the property which was the [ ] which was sold to his father.

In the middle of 1966, [ ] was giving the address of [ ] Silverdale, Washington.

This was a complaint for violation of [redacted] [redacted] The Case No. is [redacted]

[redacted] was charged with [redacted]

[redacted] by the FBI and bail was set at [redacted]

b6
b7C

I obtained a photocopy of the complaint which was eight pages in length and one exhibit attached to the complaint, which was a copy of the consent to a pre-trial delay showing that [redacted] is represented by a [redacted]

b6
b7C

There is a consent to a pre-trial delay for [redacted] [redacted] and signed by his [redacted]

b6
b7C

I also photocopied an order modifying bail conditions for [redacted] where he was allowed to leave the United States of America for a period not exceeding seven days commencing on the [redacted] to travel to the Province of British Columbia, Canada. It is noted that the bail surety consented to the above order and they were [redacted] the mother and father of [redacted] the co-defendant.

b6
b7C

I also obtained a copy of the information which was six pages in length. I also obtained a copy for the Order for Appearance of Bail Bond or Personal Recognizance for [redacted] It is interesting to note on this document that his father, [redacted] claims to have a net worth of [redacted]

b6
b7C

There is also a Search Warrant for [redacted] offices and also for his home. There is also a return on one of the Search Warrants.

b6
b7C

There was also an Affidavit for the Search Warrant which gives additional information.

As you know, the U. S. Attorney who was originally handling the case, Stan Pitkin was not in town at the time of my visit but I spoke to the U. S. Attorney that is going to carry the case to trial a [redacted]

I learned that [redacted] was a passenger aboard the skyjacked Northwest Airways plane. He said to the best of his recollection the skyjacker D. B. Cooper was sitting in the last row on the left side in the back of the plane in the Second Class Cabin. He, [redacted] was sitting also in the

b7C

Second Class Cabin on the right side in the front seat. He said that he understood that at some time D. B. Cooper came forward and showed something to someone but he said that he didn't think he saw him at any time during the flight. He said that when everyone boarded the plane that it had just started raining quite heavily and that he, [redacted] had gotten drenched on his way out to the plane. He said there was not one of the automatic boarding ramps used at this particular boarding and everyone simply had to run from the terminal across the asphalt and to the plane in order to board.

b6
b7c

He said that the flight was uneventful but that normally the flight coming in to Seatac, the combined airport for Seattle and Tacoma, the flight would pass by the airport somewhat and would pass over Seattle and would land in a southerly direction at Seatac. He said that the plane went clearly past Seattle and he simply assumed that the pilot was waiting for clearance to land and was simply killing time. He said that the plane then went somewhat to the west of Seattle and started circling and then later went to the east of Seattle and again was circling. He said that they were suppose to land at about 3:00 P.M. He said that at one time one of the stewardesses walked by and said to another stewardess to keep the curtains open between the Second Class Cabin and the First Class Cabin. [redacted] indicated that at the time it didn't mean much to him but he said that he later understood that this was one of the orders that was given by D. B. Cooper, apparently so he could see everyone in both the First and Second Class Cabins.

b6
b7c

At about 3:20 or 3:30 P.M. the pilot said that they would be landing in about 10 minutes.

At the time [redacted] was coincidentally reading a magazine about the starting of Northwest Orient Airlines and one of the early plane crashes that Northwest Orient Airlines had had.

b6
b7c

At one point the pilot said to stay in your seats because of rough flying. He indicated that there was some turbulence. He said that they finally landed at about 6:00 P.M.

Just after they landed another gentleman came up to sit alongside of [redacted] and told him that the Stewardess had told him to leave his seat which was in the rear of.

b6
b7c

the plane. Again [redacted] did not think anything particularly unusual happened. He said that when they landed that the runway lights were dark and that they were on a distant part of the runway. He said that a gas truck came up on the right-hand side of the plane and [redacted] jokingly remarked to his new companion sitting alongside that maybe they were going to refuel and go back up. This joke was simply reference to the long time that they were circling from 3:00 P.M. until 6:00 P.M. and still [redacted] did not have any inkling that a skyjacking was taking place. He said that they were finally told to deplane and told to stand nearby the plane. They were then asked to move 30 or 40 feet away and were then asked to move about 100 feet away from the plane. He said that they may have been asked one or two more times to move a 100 feet in addition or additional increments of 100 feet. He said that about the second or third place that they moved, to after departing from the plane an automobile with a lone driver who said he was the chief pilot stopped near their grouping. This driver opened the trunk and [redacted] saw parachutes and bags which appeared to be money bags or appeared to contain money. He said that he and everyone else then realized that they were in the midst of a skyjacking. At that time someone in their group said that it must have been the guy in the rear seat. To the best of his recollection he said one of the stewardesses walked back and forth picking up the parachutes and the money and he thinks that the lone automobile driver who undoubtedly was an FBI agent but claimed to be the chief pilot, perhaps accompanied her to the plane but did not at any time board the plane. Later the man claiming to be the chief pilot came back to the group and the stewardess got on. At that time the man claiming to be the chief pilot said something to the effect, "I'm out of it but that girl has got to get back on that plane with that mad man".

b6
b7C

[redacted] said that he had read the article in the Seattle Flag and said that he had three following comments to make. He said that the Flag article has the money coming on board before the passengers are released and he also believes that the Flag article had the wrong seat for Cooper.

b6
b7C

Another point is that there was a very obnoxious drunk on the plane and that anyone that had been on the flight would probably have mentioned this point.

At the time of my conversation with [redacted] he asked me who [redacted] was and I said that I did not know. [redacted] was very cooperative and said that he would answer questions concerning the case but that at that time he did not have the file in front of him as Pitkin had taken it with him to a conference.

b6
b7C

[redacted] also asked for any information I might develop about the financial standing of either [redacted]. He said that it could be shown that either one of the men needed money at the time of the [redacted] that this would add more credence to the government's case. I indicated that I would forward any information to him that I developed and with your premission, I will be writing a letter to him after you have had time to peruse this report and give your permission for me writing such a letter.

b6
b7C

In reading through [redacted] version of the skyjacking and the transcript of the account given by [redacted] they both agree that D. B. Cooper took a seat to the rear of the plane and in a left-hand seat. [redacted] claims that the pilot had given mechanical trouble as the reason for not landing. [redacted] did not give reason for the delay in his account and when I'm in touch with him I will question him on this point.

b6
b7C

[redacted] claims that the employee from the airline bringing money and parachutes came out in one of those little buses that they use at the airports. [redacted] account has the airline representative coming out in an automobile. It is really not enough description by either [redacted] or [redacted] for this particular time span to develop glaring inconsistencies or exact collaboration of stories.

b6
b7C

As you will recall, the trial was set for [redacted] in Seattle.

VARIOUS COURTS SUITS

In checking the Superior Court Civil records in Kitsap County, which covers the general area of Port Orchard, Bremerton, Silverdale, Seabeck, etc. The County Seat is in Port Orchard. I located a Superior Court action

[redacted]
This was a [redacted] action which was filed on [redacted] [redacted] The Superior Court Case No. was [redacted] The suite disclosed that they were married in Anchorage, Alaska on [redacted] Also it indicates that the Plaintiff has been in Washington for more than one year and resides in Kitsap County. There were [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] There was also community property, apparently real property in an area known as [redacted] There were also household goods in storage in Seattle and a [redacted] and a [redacted] Also listed that there were separate checking accounts and also listed as community property was the [redacted] as well as the [redacted]

[redacted] I have learned from other sources that [redacted] had been a [redacted] [redacted] probably before coming to the Bremerton, Washington area. The suit says that they were separated on July 13, 1969 and that the Plaintiff's [redacted] [redacted] of Bremerton, Washington. The suit alleged that the Defendant had been [redacted] [redacted] There was [redacted]

It was also learned from the complaint that the Plaintiff had [redacted] from a prior marriage and that she worked at that time at the Bangor Ammunition Depot.

b6
b7C

The Defendant was served at the Arista Restaurant on Wheaton Way by a [redacted] who lived at [redacted] [redacted] in Bremerton and had a telephone number of ES 7-6139. I later talked with [redacted] and learned a considerable amount of information from him. I will cover that later in the report.

b6
b7C

Another address for the Defendant that was given on October 16, 1969 was [redacted] in Silverdale.

b6
b7C

[redacted]
Page 9.

b6
b7C

This [redacted] action was finally terminated on [redacted] by the Plaintiff filing a Motion saying that they were reconciled and the [redacted] action was dismissed that same date. Interestingly enough [redacted] again filed suit on [redacted] and this Suit No. was [redacted]. This time community property was listed as a Plat, apparently a lot, an area known as [redacted] in Kitsap County. They now had community property of a leased [redacted]. Evidentially [redacted] could not make up her mind because on [redacted] she filed another Motion indicating a reconciliation and this suit was dismissed that same date.

b6
b7C

Almost getting repetitious [redacted] again filed a [redacted] action on [redacted]. The Superior Court File No. is [redacted]. In all of these [redacted] actions she always alleged [redacted]. This time the Defendant finally answered one of the [redacted] complaints and was represented by a [redacted] who I believe is representing the Defendant at this time. Again, [redacted] served [redacted] and served him on [redacted] at an address or street known as [redacted] in Bremerton.

b6
b7C

At this time the suit was dismissed for lack of prosecution within one year and the suit was dismissed on [redacted] just a few days before I looked at the [redacted] action.

b6
b7C

I then located the Superior Court Action in which [redacted] was the Plaintiff and the Defendant was a [redacted] and this action was filed on [redacted] and the Superior Court No. was [redacted]. The suit alleged that [redacted].

b6
b7C

[redacted] The Plaintiff's [redacted] in his action was [redacted] in Bremerton. Eventually the Defendant had his wages garnisheed at the Olympic Restaurant in Bremerton and that address was 515 Sixth Street in Bremerton. I later found that [redacted] was presently working at a business called Motor Parts Service in Bremerton on Fifth Street and when I inquired at that business for further information about [redacted] I found that [redacted] was on vacation that week.

[redacted]
Page 10.

b6
b7C

Another Superior Court Action, again in Kitsap County, was entitled [redacted] vs. [redacted] Superior Court Case No. [redacted]. This was a dispute over real property and it appears from a cursory reading of the suit that the [redacted] were foreclosing against the [redacted]. A photocopy was obtained of the judgment because of extremely long legal description of the property.

b6
b7C

Again in Kitsap County a Municipal Court Action was found entitled The City of Bremerton vs. [redacted] and the Case No. was [redacted]. [redacted] had been involved in a accident on March 13, 1970 in Bremerton and had been charged with [redacted]. He appealed the action but it was not successful and he was finally [redacted] because of this matter. A photocopy of the docket along with the [redacted] that he received from the [redacted] is enclosed with this report.

b6
b7C

There was another action entitled The City of Bremerton vs. [redacted] and this was Case No. [redacted] and this also arose out of the [redacted] and this time he was charged with [redacted]. A copy of the docket is again enclosed along with a photocopy of the [redacted]. He was issued this [redacted] on April 15, 1970 and gave a residence address of [redacted] Silverdale, Washington.

b6
b7C

While in Port Orchard, the County Seat for Kitsap County, I also checked the Register of Voters Record and found a registration for [redacted] who indicated that she was a [redacted] on October 3, 1970 when she registered and this time she gave a [redacted] in Silverdale, still another address for the [redacted]. She gave a date of birth of [redacted] Washington and said that she had been a resident for three years in the State and three years in the County. Probably means that the [redacted] moved to Washington in 1967.

b6
b7C

I did not find a registration in the Register of Voters for [redacted] but I did find one for [redacted] who registered on October 3, 1970, again the same date as [redacted]. He gave his address as [redacted].

b6
b7C

[redacted]

b6

[redacted] in Seabeck and indicated at that time that he was a [redacted] for Bremerton. He indicated that he was born on [redacted] in Bremerton and said that he had resided in the State for 29 years, 4 months and 18 days. He also said that he resided in the County for 29 years, 6 months and 12 days and had been in the voting precinct for the last four years. He said that he had never been convicted of a criminal charge.

b6
b7C

Also in checking public records in Port Orchard it was noted that there was a [redacted] filed against [redacted]

b6
b7C

File No. [redacted] and this was filed on [redacted]

There were also a number of [redacted]
The earliest of which occurred on December 12, 1967 and they probably all are related to the [redacted] that [redacted] was involved in.

b6
b7C

I note that the [redacted] for the [redacted] charge on [redacted] was a [redacted] and he is located on the first floor of the Courthouse in Bremerton. He was very cooperative in opening up his records and I learned that the [redacted] for the appeal on the [redacted] was a [redacted]

THE CREDIT BUREAU OF BREMERSTON - 920 Park, Bremerton
After considerable discussion with various employees at the Credit Bureau of Bremerton I was finally able to learn that the suit by a bank against [redacted] [redacted] was supposed to have taken place by the Kitsap County Bank out of the Port Orchard Branch. I spoke to a [redacted] at that branch and learned that their [redacted] was supposed to have filed the Superior Court Action on [redacted] but he was not certain if their [redacted] had actually filed the suit. At the time [redacted] had a checking account at the Seattle First National Bank in Bremerton and the Kitsap County Bank in Port Orchard was handling a collection on a [redacted] [redacted] had given a check and he wrote the check on the National Bank of Commerce in Bremerton. It was for [redacted] and the bank was never able to collect on the check. It first came back marked insufficient funds and later when the bank tried to run the check through again the account was closed. The check was written for the purchase of real property from their customer [redacted] who had a [redacted] [redacted] Rochester, Washington, [redacted] They gave me a telephone number of [redacted] but when I called that number it was disconnected. The property was located on [redacted] and apparently was a house.

b6
b7C

[redacted] was to become quite upset when we later spoke in the restaurant and bar about this particular check incident until I actually confronted him with all of the details and then he backed down.

b6
b7C

It should be mentioned that while checking the court records in Port Orchard that the Municipal Court and Superior Court Civil actions against the various members of the [redacted]

[redacted] I did not find any criminal actions in Port Orchard against [redacted]

b6
b7C

THE SEATTLE FLAG NEWSPAPER, 1415 Dexter North, Seattle, Washington, Tel. No. AT-42245

I visited the offices of The Seattle Flag and obtained two copies of their article concerning D. B. Cooper. I did not discuss the article with any of the staff members or reporters but I did learn that it was their hottest selling issue yet.

GENERAL INVESTIGATION IN SEATTLE

In addition to checking court records in Civil Bankruptcy and Criminal Courts or the Federal Courts for both [redacted] and [redacted] I also checked criminal and civil records in Seattle for the county surrounding the Seattle area. These inquiries met with negative results.

b6
b7C

I also attempted getting information from the Boeing Employment Office in Seattle but they indicated that their records on current and former employees are confidential.

GENERAL INVESTIGATION IN BREMERTON

I contacted [redacted] who was the [redacted] who served [redacted] a number of times. [redacted] has a business address which is a [redacted] in Bremerton and this is the [redacted] The Tel. No. is ES 3-5838 or ES 3-5839. His residence address is [redacted] in Bremerton and his telephone number is ES 7-6139. I first contacted [redacted] by telephone and simply indicated that I was doing some [redacted] [redacted] and that I could tell from court records that he had [redacted] him a number of times. I attempted to gain further information about [redacted] and learned that he had lived at a variety of addresses and most of the time [redacted] simply gave a post office box number. [redacted] said that he had [redacted] him on a number of other occasions other than the court suits that I had mentioned; almost all of which involved [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] I later called [redacted] again and arranged for an appointment and by the time I met with [redacted] later that evening he confronted me and told me that I was not a [redacted] or person doing a [redacted] but in fact that I was a [redacted] from Los Angeles and that I was representing you, [redacted] By this time I had checked almost all of the courts in the Bremerton and Port Orchard area and [redacted] on the [redacted] I did on certain occasions identify myself as a [redacted] and in one instance showed my identification indicating that I was from Los Angeles. At no time however did I indicate I was representing you, but I presume that [redacted] simply made this as an educated guess.

b6
b7C

I learned that [redacted] had once [redacted] on a street known as [redacted] just outside of Silverdale and that he was living there with another [redacted]. He claimed that [redacted] does not have a permanent address since he has been separated from his wife. He also indicated that he had [redacted] on either the [redacted] [redacted] in Bremerton. He described [redacted] as being a [redacted]

[redacted] He said that [redacted] and [redacted] his father, [redacted] in Bremerton which is diagonally across the street from the [redacted] lived at the time of his arrest and where [redacted] was living at the time of my visit to the Bremerton area.

He also said that he had understood that [redacted] had been in Alaska prior to coming to the Bremerton, Washington area and had been involved in [redacted] in Alaska. He said that the use of the [redacted] [redacted] and the father and son [redacted] combination, got so bad that the management of the [redacted] had to take out the dial phone from the end of the bar because [redacted] was always using it as his own phone. He said that they finally put in a phone without a dial so that phone calls could be received at that phone but no calls could be originated from that phone. He said that [redacted] went on the wagon about one year ago and has not had a drink since. At the time that I met [redacted] he said that he received information that [redacted] had just returned to town from Portland that afternoon and was going to leave right away for Portland again.

b6
b7C

I met with [redacted] in the late evening hours of Tuesday, July 25, 1972. Between my call to [redacted] to make the appointment and the time that I actually saw him, I placed a call to [redacted] residence which is in or on [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] and her telephone number was MY 2-2191. I placed the call at 7:00 P.M. that evening and reached [redacted] and spoke with her briefly. I said that I understood that she was separated from her husband and she said that was the case but that she did not feel that she should discuss her husband or the case in any way. She asked if I would call back in about an hour which would have been 8:00 P.M. and I indicated that I would do so. At 8:45 P.M. I again called [redacted] residence and [redacted] answered the telephone. I am quite certain that it was the same voice that I had heard on the [redacted] that you provided me. I indicated that I was wanting to contact his wife and that I understood that they were separated and he became somewhat upset that I would make a direct contact with his wife. He indicated that they were not-separated and at that point I simply stated that it would probably be inappropriate to discuss the matter in any further detail insofar as his trial was coming up in the fall and we both agreed that this was probably the better course to follow.

I later spoke in person with both [redacted] at about 5:30 P.M. on July 27, 1972 at the Melody Lane Cocktail Lounge.

[redacted] offered up the possibility or stated that we should not rule out the possibility that [redacted] in fact had done the skyjacking. He stated this hypothesis on the following facts, that [redacted] currently was on the wagon and therefore capable of committing the act. He was also separated from his wife and had no permanent address and was paying child support. He was also being [redacted] and therefore needed the money. He also indicated that [redacted] was gone from Bremerton for about two weeks during the time of the skyjacking. He said that people in the Melody Lane Cocktail Lounge and in other cocktail lounges in the city, started putting two and two together after [redacted] were arrested because [redacted] had been out of town for two weeks and had been somewhat mysterious about his whereabouts during that period of time when he returned to town. This is the hypothesis that was conceived of in and around the bar stools of the Melody

Lane Cocktail Lounge and other cocktail lounges within Bremerton. He also stated that [redacted] was extremely intelligent and that he was quite capable of figuring out all the nuances and actually executing such a skyjacking. [redacted] said that he in fact had discussed the matter with the resident FBI agent and that the resident FBI agent did not consider it entirely unprobable. [redacted] had been on the Bremerton Police Department as well as being on the [redacted] at the ship yards in Bremerton and therefore claims to know most of the police officers in the area as well as the FBI agents. [redacted] also pointed out a rather interesting coincidence. He said that not only is there a [redacted] in the telephone directory in Seattle as the news media has amply pointed out, but there is also a [redacted] with the Sheriff Department in the Bremerton area. His name is actually [redacted] He did not know [redacted] address but he said he did live in the telephone prefix area of MY 2. Apparently [redacted] [redacted] has been the brunt of a number of jokes and has taken a lot of ribbing and kidding since the skyjacking.

b7C

[redacted] also points out that some people said that [redacted] was either in Reno or possibly Anchorage during the two weeks to one month that he was gone during the time right around the skyjacking. He claimed [redacted] did not tell anybody about the Reno or Anchorage location after he returned but must have mentioned it before he left. [redacted] also stated that he thought [redacted] had been in the armed services but was not sure at this point.

b6
b7C

[redacted] says that he has met both [redacted] and said [redacted] is not too bright but that [redacted] is quite an engaging, intelligent, crafty individual. He said that he has had business dealings with both men apparently involving around [redacted]

b6
b7C

At the present time [redacted] indicates that he is a [redacted] in the Sheriff Department in the area which probably compares with our [redacted] status in Los Angeles County. [redacted] did show me a badge and I presume that he was telling me the truth when he said that he is a [redacted] for that County which is Kitsap County.

b6
b7C

County.

[redacted] indicated that he would be willing to do [redacted] on the case in the Bremerton area at a rate of [redacted]. That if we had anything for him to do on the case, that I would write a letter outlining the request and [redacted].

b6
b7C

INTERVIEW WITH [redacted]

b6
b7C

On July 27, 1972 at 5:30 P.M. I was eating dinner in the bar area of the Melody Lane Cocktail Lounge and Restaurant. Two men came in matching the general description of [redacted] and [redacted] and a man walked over to me identifying himself as [redacted] and introduced himself. He invited me to bring my dinner into the restaurant portion of the Melody Lane Cocktail Lounge. [redacted] was slim, balding and was wearing a flowered sport shirt. He had a [redacted] [redacted] was wearing a white shirt with tie and no jacket. He was taller than [redacted] somewhat and was wearing a full beard that was short. He said that they understood that I was looking for them all over town and I said that I was simply asking questions. They indicated that they had enough publicity about the matter already and that my asking questions around town was ruining their reputations. I then reminded [redacted] that in fact he had gone to the Bremerton Sun after he had spoken with you.

[redacted] was somewhat flustered by that comment and then turned toward [redacted] and said that [redacted] was certainly not looking for any publicity. [redacted] put on a great show of appearing hurt and having his ego damaged. They were quite upset about my asking questions about them around town and they said that [redacted]

[redacted] said that he would see what he could do about stopping me from [redacted] and he said that he would do this by asking his attorney what could be done. It should be noted that [redacted] was served coffee at the bar and that the waitress who is known as [redacted] said to [redacted] when he came in I'll get you your coffee. [redacted] was served a drink. I asked both [redacted] about what happened and I was simply trying to find out what had happened in regards to the whole affair. They indicated that they had expected to hear from you since May 2, 1972 and I believe that this is the date that they were both arrested. He said that if you were being watched or felt that you were being watched, he felt that you could have certainly sent someone else in your place to speak with them. I told them that we had contemplated this move but figured that it would not pay off insofar as they were both charged with criminal counts and would not discuss anything with us. They did state, however, that if I would have simply contacted them when I arrived in town that they would have told me everything if I simply would have contacted them first. I then pointed out to [redacted] that there were many inconsistencies in [redacted] that he had given to you. He said that you had gotten [redacted] and I said that I could prove that his background did not match the [redacted] comment was, "so what".

b6
b7C

[redacted] then suggested that I should read the July issue of "Moneyworth Magazine" written by Ginsberg. He said there was an article in there about honesty and then went on relating something to the fact that every time a policeman makes an arrest we all feel more honest. He evidently was trying to make some sort of philosophical comment about honesty and living but I'm sure that [redacted] could take his own advice.

b6
b7C

[redacted] said that his reputation was at stake and that his family had been in the area for [redacted]

b6
b7C

They also said that I was going around town saying things.

[redacted] claimed that I said that I was [redacted] and I said that was not the case. I said that I had stated that I was [redacted] and that I had made inquiries about [redacted] in the [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] I also told [redacted] that I had gotten all of my information from the man at the bank who [redacted]

[redacted] and who [redacted] At that point [redacted] asked, [redacted] and [redacted] said, "Oh, you know that [redacted]"

[redacted] asked if I knew that the case was being litigated, I said yes, that I understood that it was suppose to be in litigation at the present time.

They said that they had numerous reports on where I had been and what I had been doing. They said they knew that I was talking with the [redacted] that I had been

b6
b7C

at the Court House and in fact they knew that I was standing waiting for a cab that afternoon.

They asked me where I was staying and I gave them the name of the motel and phone number in Seattle.

[redacted] said that the FBI in Bremerton knows both of them by first-name basis. [redacted] also complained that the FBI took his sunglasses and dug up his backyard. [redacted] said that he had been getting extortion notes and threats and threatening phone calls to kill him.

b6
b7C

On a couple of occasions [redacted] told [redacted] to keep quiet. [redacted] asked if I was principally doing a dossier on him and I said that I was doing one on both of them but the emphasis was certainly on him. I believe that [redacted] and [redacted] were tipped off to my presence which had been principally my plan; by a cocktail waitress by the name of [redacted]. Her first name was [redacted] and [redacted] is simply a nickname. She claims to be a [redacted]

b6
b7C

The dinner waitress who served us in the restaurant portion of the cocktail lounge was a [redacted] and she was the [redacted] left at about 6:00 P.M. after they said there was really nothing further to talk about and that I was simply trying to get information on them and I would probably hold everything against them.

b6
b7C

ARREST RECORDS ON [redacted] IN CLALLUM COUNTY

b6
b7C

I called officials in the County Seat of Port Angeles in Clallum County, which is just north of Bremerton. I previously had found a receipt for bail for [redacted] and this receipt was dated [redacted]. The receipt was for bail in Clallum County. I checked with officials there and found that [redacted] had charges filed against him on [redacted] for two separate counts. One of those counts was [redacted] and the other was [redacted]. The first count [redacted] was dismissed on [redacted] and the second count was dismissed on [redacted]. These charges were for [redacted] and the second count was for [redacted] and the date of this offense was given as [redacted]. The allegation stated that he had [redacted] and that [redacted]. The first count charged that [redacted] had represented himself as [redacted] [redacted] to a Howard Equipment Center. Apparently the allegations said that he was trying to obtain financial gain by representing himself as a [redacted]

I believe that his father, [redacted] actually had been a [redacted] This was said to have taken place on September 15, 1966 and he allegedly had made these representations to obtain machinery.

b6
b7C

The bail receipt that I previously mentioned was Receipt No.
[redacted] and was dated [redacted] and was received from [redacted]

b6
b7C

This amount was [redacted] listed as bail for [redacted] from the Sequim Police Department. Sequim is in Clallum County. The [redacted] listed on the receipt was a [redacted] [redacted] in Sequim Washington and her telephone number was [redacted] I found this bill receipt in the [redacted] file for [redacted]

COMMENTS

I should also point out that I noted in the current criminal file on the [redacted] that the judge made notes for [redacted] that he had lived in Kitsap County his whole life and his father and mother also lived in that county. The judge also made notes that his wife and children were living in Bremerton and that his children were ages [redacted] [redacted] also claimed to have business interest in three corporations and have [redacted] in his own home. He also claim to have [redacted] and another [redacted] in the area. His parents and his wife signed for the [redacted] own recognizance bond.

b6
b7C

I am also enclosing maps as well as two newspaper articles
I obtained while in the Bremerton and Seattle area.

It is respectfully suggested that I write to the present U. S. Attorney handling the case relaying the financial information that I have received on [redacted] He had requested this information if I was able to obtain any financial information on either one of the parties.

I also suggest calling the U. S. Attorney and gaining further information about the case including the reports about the altered serial numbers as well as obtaining arrest histories for both of the parties and prior background information especially on [REDACTED] I will be discussing this case in further detail with you in person.

Respectfully submitted,

New Mystery Unfolds in 'D. B. Cooper' Trial

Journalist Karl Fleming Testifies Public's Fascination With Case Lured Him to Hoax

BY DARYL LEMBKE

SEATTLE — The public's fascination with "D. B. Cooper," the vanished hijacker who is either dead or holed up somewhere with $200,000 that he cannot spend, led two Los Angeles men into the mystery.

Karl Fleming, 45, a journalist, thought he had located the missing hijacker. He testified in court here that he got Max Palevsky, 48, a wealthy Los Angeles businessman and former chairman of the Xerox Corp. executive committee, to pay $30,000 in cash to obtain all publication rights to "Cooper's" first-person account of the hijacking. Palevsky also put up $5,000 more for Fleming's expenses.

Fleming and Palevsky were to share equally in the profits from selling the story for book publication, television and a motion picture.

Fraud Charge

The U.S. government contends that all that the two bought was a hoax.

Details of the case are coming out at a trial of two Bremerton, Wash., men, Donald Sylvester Murphy, 50, and William J. Lewis, 29, on two charges of fraud. The pair are accused of hoodwinking Fleming out of the $30,000, Murphy by posing as "Cooper" for interviews and Lewis by acting as the go-between.

The trial will resume this morning before a jury of three women and nine men in federal court here.

Fleming, who was on the witness stand most of the time last week as the prosecution presented its case against Murphy and Lewis, conceded under cross-examination: "There is a strong possibility I was had."

From tape recordings of his preliminary negotiations with Lewis, it seemed apparent that Fleming let his eagerness to get what he thought was the story of the century dull his reporter's skepticism.

For example, when Lewis told him on the phone that "Cooper" was motivated to hijack the plane by bitterness toward society because of losing his job at the Boeing Co. after 14 years there, Fleming fairly jumped in excitement.

"You know, the cold chills are rising on my arms," Fleming said on the tape recording. "This is an incredible God-damned story. My instincts were so good, I just knew."

Murphy.

Hijacked in 1971

The name "D. B. Cooper" was given by a man who hijacked a Northwest Orient Airlines 727 jet between Portland and Seattle on Thanksgiving Eve, Nov. 23, 1971.

Holding what he claimed was a bomb, the man forced authorities to give him $200,000 in $20 bills at Seattle and then parachuted into the stormy darkness on a flight from Seattle to Reno.

He has never turned up. The Army deployed hundreds of soldiers to comb the area in southwest Washington over which he supposedly jumped, but found no trace of him.

The possibility that "Cooper" might have gotten away with the money seemed to titillate the fancy of a lot of people, notwithstanding its criminal aspects. A Portland, Ore., man sold D. B. Cooper T-shirts and a Portland nightclub singer recorded a song, "D. B. Cooper, Where Are You?"

In the preliminary conversations with Fleming both on the phone and at a meeting in Los Angeles, the man who Fleming identified as Lewis gave a convincing description of "Cooper."

The go-between described the hijacker as a family man, faithful to his wife, an admirer of President Nixon, a hater of people on welfare, a man living in a three-level home on Seattle's Lake Washington and a dedicated Boeing employee.

The negotiator said on the tape that "Cooper" became completely disillusioned with the system when he was let out at Boeing with only two weeks' notice, while a younger man working with him was retained.

Discussing his own motive in attempting to peddle the hijacker's account, the go-between said on the tape:

"Dishonesty is a state of mind. If you think you're dishonest, then you are. I'm just liquidating some of the assets from D. B. Cooper and taking a percentage."

An FBI expert, in comparing documents, testified that photocopies of three $20 bills, supposedly from the hijack loot, that Lewis and Murphy showed to Flemin to prove that he was really interviewing "Cooper" were bogus.

In interviews with Fleming, filmed on a Puget Sound beach and taped in a motel room, Murphy said he had planned the hijacking for 14 months. He said his problem was that "I couldn't spend the money after I got it." The film was shown to the jury last Wednesday.

Fleming testified that, after the interviews, he, Murphy and Lewis drove to a rural area near the hamlet of La Center in southwest Washington. Murphy pointed out where he supposedly landed after parachuting from the 727 and where he got in his car and drove home. He said he was guided to his car by radio transmitters that he had placed in the vehicle and at two nearby locations and which he monitored with a walkie-talkie during and after the jump.

Fleming said that Newsweek had a cover story written and a sketch drawn to illustrate it, based on his interviews with "Cooper." He said a week before the article was to run, an attorney for a book publishing company threatened to tell the FBI about the interviews. He had been discussing publication of the story with the book firm, Harper & Row.

Fleming said he then instructed an attorney friend to give all the information about the contacts with Murphy and Lewis to the FBI. An investigation turned up many discrepancies in what the tw men had told Fleming including the fact that Murphy had never been employed by Boeing. The two men were arrested on June 3.

Palevsky described his occupation in his testimony as "an entrepreneur."

He said he had trusted Fleming's judgment enough to put up the $35,000, knowing him to be a "very reputable journalist."

"I wasn't totally convinced but certainly thought there was a probability that he had access to D. B. Cooper," Palevsky said.

He added: "I wanted to have nothing to do with the entire transaction. It was Karl's project. I wanted to avoid as far as possible any involvement."

On the witness stand last Thursday, Fleming disclosed that the weekly newspaper LA, which he and Palevsky started six months ago with Palevsky's support, had suspended publication. In making the disclosure, Fleming was overcome with emotion. U.S. Dist. Judge Walter McGovern called a recess to enable him to regain his composure.

2 Convicted in 'D. B. Cooper' Fraud Case

BY DARYL LEMBKE
Times Staff Writer

SEATTLE — Two men were convicted in federal court here Wednesday of fraudulently selling a story of how "D. B. Cooper" hijacked an airliner, with one of them impersonating the hijacker.

A jury of three women and nine men deliberated five hours Tuesday night and Wednesday before finding William J. (Jack) Lewis, 33, and Donald Sylvester Murphy, 50, guilty of all charges.

Both were found guilty of two counts of inducing former Newsweek contributing editor Karl Fleming, 45, to travel across state lines for the purpose of defrauding him and of a "D. B. Cooper" hijacked a third count of conspiring to defraud him.

Lewis was also convicted of a fourth count of using a wire (in this case, the telephone) to defraud.

Possible Sentences

U.S. Dist. Judge Walter T. McGovern set Jan. 19 for probation hearing and sentencing. Lewis could receive up to 30 years in federal prison or $31,000 in fines or both. Murphy could receive a maximum sentence of 25 years or $30,000 in fines or both.

Jury foreman George Wittrock, a planner for the Boeing Co., said the deciding factor was the replaying in the jury room of tapes recorded when Lewis, acting as the go-between, phoned Fleming in Los Angeles last Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 and other tapes recorded in Seattle when Fleming interviewed Murphy. Fleming testified in the eight-day trial that the two Bremerton, Wash., real estate men had flimflammed him into believing that he was interviewing the real "D. B. Cooper" when he questioned Murphy at length on tape and film.

The defendants claimed that he knew all along that Murphy was playing the role of "D. B. Cooper" but went along with it to obtain an exciting story.

Wittrock said the jury believed the tapes proved conclusively that Fleming thought he was dealing with the real hijacker.

1971 Hijacking

A man giving the name "D. B. Cooper" hijacked a 727 jet airliner Nov. 23, 1971, demanded and got $200,000 and parachuted out on a flight from Seattle to Reno.

No trace has ever been found of the man or the money.

Fleming placed an ad in Seattle newspapers last Dec. 23, urging "D. B. Cooper" to contact him and tell his story "to an absolutely discreet and trustworthy writer for responsible national magazine, without jeopardizing your safety in any way."

At the time, Fleming was a contributing editor in Los Angeles for Newsweek magazine, for whom he had worked 11 years. More than a month after placing the ad, Fleming got a telephone call from a man whom he identified in court as Lewis. The man said he could put Fleming in touch with the hijacker, whom he described as a family man disillusioned by being let out of his job at the Boeing company after 14 years of service.

Palevsky Backing

Fleming flew twice to Seattle and paid for the publication, TV and movie rights to the hijacker's story. The $30,000 and $5,000 in expense money was put up by Max Palevsky, 48, a wealthy Los Angeles businessman who was to share equally with Fleming in profits from the story.

Murphy, a real estate man and former operator of heavy construction equipment who said he went broke two years ago because of a drinking problem, admitted he posed as "D. B. Cooper" for lengthy interviews by Fleming.

He said that at Lewis' suggestion, he "boned up" on the hijacking by going to the library and reading newspaper accounts of it. He said he even drove to a sky diving field near Seattle, watched parachute jumps and had a sky diver explain his technique.

Murphy testified that Lewis gave him 17 pages of notes and a script which he used as the basis for his remarks in the interviews by Fleming. Murphy had never worked for Boeing and said he had never jumped from a plane.

Went to FBI

During four days on the witness stand last week, Fleming insisted that he thought he was interviewing the real hijacker. A week before Newsweek was scheduled to run a cover story based on the interviews, Fleming had an attorney friend go to the FBI and tell agents about the interviews.

An investigation by the FBI turned up discrepancies, Newsweek canceled the story and the FBI arrested Murphy and Lewis last May 2.

Both Lewis and Murphy admitted in their testimony that they lied when interrogated by the FBI. They claimed they did so to protect Fleming's story. They also maintained Fleming knew all along that Murphy was not "D. B. Cooper."

Lewis claimed that after he had placed an ad carrying the heading, "D. B. Cooper," in a Bremerton newspaper to attract attention to lots which he had for sale, a man whom he believed to be the real hijacker called him in the middle of the night. He said that the notes which he took from this and subsequent calls from the same man were turned over to Murphy so that he could give an authentic impersonation of the hijacker.

'I Need a Body'

Lewis quoted Fleming as remarking, after being informed that the real hijacker would not be available for the interviews:

"I need a body."

When he got his story twisted during cross examination by Asst. U.S. Atty. Larry Finegold, Lewis blurted at one point:

"I told many lies to the FBI. I mean, it's impossible to keep the lies straight."

Attorney Tony Savage representing Murnhy, said Fleming and Palevsky "got themselves in this spot."

"Mr. Fleming is going to wind up a fool or a cheat, regardless of the verdict, and I suspect he'd prefer the former," Savage said.

He said Palevsky was angered at being subpoenaed to testify at the trial because "he doesn't want to get involved, because he wanted to keep his skirts clean."

Palevsky last week dropped his support of Fleming's newspaper, LA, causing it to suspend publication.

Fleming said Palevsky was angered at him for not informing him that he would have to appear at the trial, an appearance that caused him to defer a trip to Europe.

Asked if this was the reason Palevsky dropped his support for the newspaper, Fleming replied that it also could be "because these proceedings have revealed I'm a pretty stupid guy."

My motivation is civic duty, and I hope that this is not a false lead. I would have come forward sooner, but my suspicion only recently took on conviction. I regret that, for personal security reasons I must, for the time being remain anonymous.

RE: Suspect ALVIN CURTIS HARTLEY

On 2/5/73, Chief of Police FERTIG, Huntington Park Police Department (HPPD), Huntington Park, California, who has served with that department for 32 years, advised he personally recalls AL HUNTLEY, who was hired as a patrolman on 4/3/50 and resigned without giving notice on 9/8/51.

Chief FERTIG added that HARTLEY served in the Patrol Division while he, FERTIG, was a lieutenant in the Patrol Division. He described HARTLEY as completely unsuitable for police work. HARTLEY constantly talked about "making it big" and once, a few years after HARTLEY left the HPPD, FERTIG met him in Las Vegas. At that time he recalls HARTLEY was "bum rapping" the Las Vegas Police Department with whom he had taken a job as an officer after leaving Huntington Park. He recalls HARTLEY made some remarks about going to Cuba and having some connection with GEORGE RAFT in gambling. He could recall no specifics and did not know if HARTLEY actually had gone to Cuba or was involved with GEORGE RAFT.

Leads concerning suspects will not be set forth in this report as they are being handled by separate communication.

There are currently 637 suspects, 470 of whom have been eliminated. New suspects are being developed and systematic elimination of these suspects continues.

In an effort to facilitate interoffice communications, it is requested that all field offices originating NORJAK communications, not only refer to the appropriate communications but also include the suspect(s) name and alias(es) if known on the first page under the title NORJAK.

For the information of all field offices, the Bureau advised by airtel September 15, 1972, that this is the only aircraft hijacking in which the subject has not been identified and apprehended nor the ransom money recovered. All leads in this important case are to be set forth expeditiously. The investigation of this case is to be vigorously pursued in all facets in order to bring it to a successful completion.

It is noted that the investigative period overlaps previous NORJAK reports. This has been done since previous reports were not distributed to all field offices.

It is noted that Unsub in this matter is almost universally called "D. B. COOPER" by the press, the public, and even by Bureau personnel. Factually, there is no basis for this alias. As a possible explanation for the existence of the alias "D. B. COOPER" the following sequence of events is offered:

While the hijacking was in progress on the evening of November 24, 1971, it was established that a [redacted] had boarded the flight at Portland, but was not among the passengers who deplaned at Seattle.

As a result, the name [redacted] was checked through the Bureau indices, which revealed an Identification Record for a [redacted] FBI Number [redacted] born in [redacted] with an [redacted] in [redacted]

INVESTIGATIVE STEPS TO PROCESS NORJAK SUSPECTS

In checking on suspect [redacted] that evening, the Portland Division advised that he definitely had been eliminated. A police officer of The Dalles, Oregon Police Department, visited him in The Dalles, and definitely identified him as the above [redacted] and the fact was noted that he could not have been on the plane since he was at The Dalles.

b6
b7c

There was no FBI release to the press concerning the above suspect, but the press coverage in Oregon, and in the State of Washington was so intense, it may have become known to the press, that the above [redacted] was contacted by a police officer.

b6
b7c

It is suggested that the fact that the name "D.B. COOPER" is not involved in this matter not be given publicity outside the Bureau in order to utilize this fact as an aid in the initial evaluation of new leads.

INVESTIGATIVE STEPS TO PROCESS NORJAK SUSPECTS

This list in no way represents all the means available to process a suspect. Each individual case prompts a different method; one or more of the below listed methods have been used in the past.

1. Obtain current descriptive data (particularly useful is age, height and complexion)
2. Ascertain location on November 24, 1971, by
  - (a) checking employment records.
  - (b) checking cancelled checks or credit card transactions.
  - (c) interviewing acquaintances or relatives (note November 24th was the day before Thanksgiving, 1971).
3. Ascertain present location to determine if he is alive or if he appears to be in hiding.

SE 164-81

4. Ascertain if he has knowledge of airplanes or parachuting (i.e. private pilot's license, skydiving experience, or military jump experience).
5. Obtain current photograph, color if possible, to display to witnesses. (Note: All NORJAK eyewitnesses have been repeatedly contacted and have reviewed numerous photographs. Up to now they have been extremely cooperative, not withstanding the many contacts they have endured both at work and at home. Based on the above, these witnesses will not be contacted to view photographs unless there is no other way to eliminate a suspect).
6. Compare suspect's fingerprints and palm prints with NORJAK partials on file in the Identification Bureau.
7. Ascertain if he is in any way familiar with the Pacific Northwest area and in particular if he ever flew over this area.
8. Check current financial situation and contrast it to his situation prior to NORJAK.
9. Determine if he smokes cigarettes or if he ever smoked cigarettes. (Note: Unsub smoked Raleigh cigarettes).
10. Determine if he was registered at a motel or hotel near the Portland Airport just prior to NORJAK.
11. Determine if he made any trial runs prior to NORJAK on airlines flying between Portland and Seattle.
12. Determine if he has a safe deposit box and consider feasibility of obtaining a court order to determine its contents.
13. Compare his hair to hair fiber found on NORJAK airplane.

SE 164-81

14. Check medical records (subject was apparently in good health and athletic at the time of NORJAK but he could have been injured in the jump).
15. Determine if he had reason to have a grudge on November 24, 1971. (Possibilities might be loss of job, especially airline-related job, Vietnam War, ethnic freedom, etc.)
16. Determine his criminal background. (It is felt Unsub was not an experienced criminal.)
17. Determine suspect's educational background. (Unsub was probably a high school graduate and may have had further education.)
18. Determine if he is or was an alcoholic. (It is felt Unsub was not an alcoholic.)
19. Determine if he has an accent of any kind. (Unsub did not.)
20. Determine if the tie or tie tac found on NORJAK belongs to suspect.
21. Check suspect's name through
  - (a) St. Louis Office for military records to determine jump experience. (Note: need service number or SSAN.)
  - (b) Airline Pilot Association (ALPA), headquarters Washington, D.C.
  - (c) Parachute Club of America, U.S. Parachute Association, PO Box 109, Monterey, California 93940.
  - (d) Raleigh Coupon Redemption Center, Brown and Williamson Tobacco Company, Hill Street, Louisville, Kentucky. (Records kept only one year.)

PROFILE

The purpose of the following information is to conveniently list all the known facts concerning the hijacker's profile and to combine them with suppositions that can be reasonably inferred from those facts. The suppositions have been included to aid in processing a suspect. They should not be considered as concrete facts, nor should they be used as the sole determining factor in drawing investigative conclusions.

SUMMARY

Unsub was a well spoken, conservative gentleman; probably a Catholic with Mexican or Indian blood. He was not an alcoholic. He probably lived in the Portland or Seattle areas or had flown more than once over these areas. He apparently had no accomplices. He was not an experienced skydiver and most probably received his jump training in the military. His hijacking plan was not well thought out, and he was probably not an experienced criminal. He was apparently having financial troubles prior to November, 1971, and he may have previously worked in an airline-related industry.

The reasons for the above suppositions are included below.

BACKGROUND

It is felt Unsub was not an experienced criminal because of his mannerism exhibited after he received the ransom money. Unsub reportedly became somewhat childish in his actions and comments while counting the money.

Unsub was familiar with the Seattle area, as indicated by his comments concerning the plane's location as it flew over Tacoma, Washington. In addition, Unsub made a comment as to the distance McChord Air Force Base was in relation to Sea-Tac Airport. Unsub reportedly indicated McChord was approximately 20 minutes from Sea-Tac, which is essentially correct.

Unsub stated he was hijacking the aircraft because of a grudge. He may have had a relative, possibly a son, killed in Vietnam or he may have had recent financial problems which would foster such a grudge.

Unsub's complexion has been described as swarthy or dark. The grudge may be associated with his background which could possibly be Indian, Mexican or possibly Italian descent. Note unsub has been described by witness [redacted] as definitely having some Mexican or Indian "blood" in him.

b6
b7c

It is noted the northwest area at the time of the hijacking was suffering from a depressed economic condition, and since Unsub was familiar with the Seattle area as indicated above, it is possible Unsub was out of work at the time of NORJAK. In addition, Unsub demonstrated considerable knowledge of aircraft and of flying, and it is felt he was employed in the aircraft industry, either civilian or military at one time in his life, therefore, it is logical to assume unsub may possibly have been out of work in an airlines-related industry.

His actions and reactions that occurred throughout the hijacking indicate unsub probably was not a desperate man, nor was he mentally ill such as a paranoid type. Unsub exhibited an unusually calm manner throughout the whole hijacking.

Unsub was probably a "loner" and carried out the hijacking by himself, with no partners. Throughout the hijacking, he exhibited a competency in reacting to various situations that arose. It is believed that Unsub was not an experienced criminal, but a victim of circumstances.

Unsub's physical build and his handiness with the parachute shroud lines indicates coordination and some physical ability as well as inventiveness. (It is noted that during the hijacking unsub requested a knapsack to put the money in and he received a small white bag instead. Unsub took a small pocket knife from his person and fashioned a means to attach the small bag to his body using parachute lines from an unused parachute. Since it is believed unsub was not well prepared for the hijacking and had not thoroughly thought the hijacking out, he most probably always carries a small pocket knife with him.

The following information tends to indicate unsub was somewhat conservative in his thinking and dress:

1. Short style hair
2. Age mid 40's
3. Dark colored suit, dark colored raincoat, white shirt, narrow black tie.
4. Unsub did not swear and showed a great deal of respect for the stewardesses on the airline because they were women. (Unsub engaged in a small argument with one of the passengers, as well as experiencing extremely tense and nervous situations, and through it all he never used profane language - this might indicate he is possibly a religious man. Since he did drink, and since he is possibly religious, he probably is not a Baptist or Mormon.)

The following information tends to indicate Unsub possibly possessed athletic ability:

1. His physical build was described as average to well built, even though his age was described as in his mid-40's.
2. Unsub exhibited some physical dexterity using his hands and a small knife.
3. Unsub apparently parachuted from an aircraft at night; something that would require no small degree of physical ability.

It is felt unsub possibly maintains his physical well being through regular exercise.

SE 164-81

The following information tends to indicate the Unsub was a gentleman:

1. He offered to tip the stewardesses on the NORJAK flight after he received his ransom money. He did not offer them ransom money as the tip, but used his own money.
2. During the entire hijacking he did not use profane language.
3. Throughout the hijacking he maintained a calm demeanor and spoke low and intelligently.

The following information tends to indicate Unsub lived in the northwest area at some time in his life:

1. Unsub knew the distance from McChord to Sea-Tac and recognized Tacoma, Washington from the air.
2. Unsub was dressed in a suit and lightweight overcoat which is commonly worn by many northwest area residents.
3. No accent or unusual speech mannerisms were detected by the Northwest Airlines stewardesses who had a chance to observe him.

SPORT PARACHUTIST

The hijacker is probably not a sports parachutist nor is he a member of a sport parachute club. The reasons for this are as follows:

1. The hijacker requested two back parachutes and two front parachutes. He gave no specific instructions as to the type of parachute that he desired. (i.e. a sports parachutist would probably have requested a steerable sport

SE 164-81

2. Several sport parachutists have advised that a sport parachutist possesses an emotional attachment to his parachute and probably would not jump from an aircraft with anyone else's chute, nor would they jump with a chute they had not packed themselves.

The hijacker was furnished a parachute that opens quickly, has a high rate of descent, and one that was not steerable.

3. The hijacker was furnished two front parachutes, commonly called chest packs which are to be used in an emergency when the back pack parachute or main parachute fails to open properly. The chest pack parachute the hijacker took with him was a dummy parachute. It was designed for lectures to demonstrate to new parachutists the proper method of opening a chest pack parachute. It is felt an experienced sports parachutist would probably have noticed this defect.

4. Unsub's age has been described as mid 40's and it is noted that the average age in most sport parachute clubs is mid 20's. If Unsub was a member of a sport parachute club he would certainly be an unusual member, one that would be easily recognized by the other members, as well as one that was well known because of his unusual age. It is felt that due to the large amount of publicity afforded this case, someone in a sport parachute club would have recognized his fellow "sky diver" as being identical with Unsub if in fact Unsub was a member of any sports parachute club.

When the stewardess presented the parachutes to the hijacker she also presented an instruction sheet on how to utilize a parachute. At that time, Unsub stated he did not need any instructions concerning the use of a parachute.

Since Unsub did not specify a specific type of chute and because of the above reasoning concerning Unsub's age, it is felt Unsub was not an experienced jumper or even a sport jumper. In addition, Unsub probably had some jump training most probably obtained while in the military.

HABITS

Unsub drinks in moderation and is probably not an alcoholic. Unsub ordered one bourbon and seven at the beginning of the flight and although he was offered several free drinks later, he turned them down. This would indicate that Unsub possessed sufficient willpower to refuse alcohol in a tension-filled situation. It is believed an alcoholic or a former alcoholic who had just had one drink and was placed in a situation of similar stress would succumb to the pressure and imbibe in the free drinks offered him by the stewardesses.

Located in the ashtray utilized by Unsub were eight cigarette butts, seven of which have been identified by the FBI Laboratory as Raleigh filter cigarettes, and the eighth cigarette is possibly the same. These cigarettes are sold in a "soft pack". Unsub was in the aircraft eight hours in an extremely tense situation. During the eight hours, he had eight cigarettes. A two-pack-a-day smoker would have consumed 20 cigarettes in eight hours under normal circumstances. It is felt Unsub may possibly smoke less than one pack a day.

CLOTHES

Located in Seat 18 E (the seat Unsub occupied) was a black clip-on tie which contained a tie clip described as yellow gold in color, with a white pearl circular stone in the center. The label in the tie bore the name "Towncraft" and bore the legend "Store 3; Penneys". The label in this tie showed it to be a "Snapper" patent type tie. Investigation at Las Vegas indicated this type tie was sold for about $1.50 and that this particular tie was about a year to a year and a half old. It was a favorite item for individuals such as waiters, busboys and bartenders.

Stewardess [ ] has said that this tie, found on the aircraft, was probably Unsub's and other witnesses have indicated he wore a similar type tie.

b6
b7c

SE 164-81

Since Unsub wore a tie during the hijacking and for other reasons described above, it is felt he was possibly an executive. However, since the tie was narrow and a clip-on type not currently in style, Unsub was possibly not on a top-level executive.

Unsub carried with him a cheap briefcase that appeared to be new. It is thought the hijacker probably purchased this briefcase just prior to the hijacking to be used during the hijacking only.

Unsub wore a white shirt with small collar points indicating he probably did not have the money to obtain a more fashionable wardrobe (i.e. more colorful shirts with larger collars currently in style). The white shirt could also indicate the hijacker's conservative taste in clothing.

EDUCATION

Unsub was assessed to be a high school graduate possibly with some college training, based primarily on vocabulary used during the hijack. Further, Unsub impressed stewardesses as possibly being experienced in dealing with people. They, therefore, concluded he was the executive type and seemed to naturally dictate the ransomed demands to the stewardesses in lieu of writing the notes out himself.

Title: UNKNOWN SUBJECT;
NORTHWEST AIRLINES FLIGHT #350, PORTLAND, OREGON, TO SEATTLE, WASHINGTON
NOVEMBER 24, 1971

Character: CRIME ABOARD AIRCRAFT - HIJACKING; EXTORTION

Synopsis: On November 24, 1971, a white male skyjacked a Northwest Airlines Flight from Portland to Seattle. The hijacker demanded and received $200,000 and four parachutes upon landing at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport. After receiving the ransom money, the hijacker allowed the passengers to leave. The plane then took off for Reno and at 8:11 p.m. a pressure oscillation was noted by the plane's crew. That pressure oscillation was probably caused by the hijacker leaving the aircraft. Search of the aircraft at Reno revealed the hijacker was not in the plane when it landed. Extensive searches of the area into which the hijacker would have landed failed to locate the hijacker or any evidence of value. The initial black and white artist composite drawing of the hijacker was changed to a color sketch to more accurately reflect the hijacker's age and swarthy complexion.

THE HIJACK

DB Cooper-24983

SE 164-81

The Unsub, aka [redacted] at 2:00 PM, Pacific Standard Time, November 24, 1971, purchased a one-way coach ticket at the Portland International Airport, Portland, Oregon, for travel from Portland to Seattle, Washington, on Northwest Orient Airlines Flight Number 305, which was a Boeing 727 aircraft. Unsub paid for this flight with a twenty dollar bill and had no luggage. He occupied seat number 18 E on the aircraft.

b6

The Boeing 727 has three seats on each side of the aisle. Row 18 is the last one on both the right and left side of the aisle. The seats are identified from left to right as you face the front of the aircraft with A,B,C on the left side of the aisle and D (aisle seat), E (center seat) and F (window seat) on the right side.

Almost flush against the back of row 18, except for some eight inches near the aisle, is a bulkhead which forms the wall for the lavatories, located behind row 18; one on the right and one on the left. Beyond the lavatory doors is the door leading to the air stairs.

The door to the air stairs is always closed and locked, except when loading or unloading passengers. It is located straight away at the end of the aisle beyond row 18 and is perhaps some 3½ feet from the last row and is in easy reach for someone sitting in row 18.

Built into the lower portion of the door to the air stairs is the stewardess seat which is pulled down when in use, so that a person sitting in that seat looks straight down the aisle toward the front of the aircraft. On take-off this seat was occupied by Stewardess [redacted]

b6
b7c

Prior to the time the aircraft taxied on the runway, he purchased a bourbon and Seven Up from Stewardess [redacted]. As the aircraft taxied toward the runway for takeoff, Unsub turned and handed Stewardess [redacted] an envelope containing a note written in black felt-tip pen on plain white unlined paper which said:

b6
b7c

"Miss, I have a bomb here and I would like you to sit by me".

SE 164-81

The hijacker then dictated the following:

"I want $200,000 by 5:00 p.m. in cash". (No specification as to denomination, age or sequence of bills). "Put it in a knapsack. I want two back parachutes and two front parachutes" (no other specification concerning parachute types). "When we land I want a fuel truck ready to refuel" (probably his flying experience caused him to add this). "No funny stuff or I'll do the job" (the first attempted parachute skyjacking had been foiled about 12 days earlier by the hijacked aircraft's crew.)

The hijacker showed both Stewardesses the contents of his briefcase and stated it was an electrical device and requested the aircraft radio be used as little as possible.

The hijacker explained why he hijacked this plane by stating "it's not because I have a grudge against the airlines, it's because I have a grudge."

The hijacker then added that the flight suited his time, place and plans (probably the convenience of a Portland to Seattle flight suited the hijacker).

The hijacker very carefully demanded that each and every note either written by him or dictated to the stewardess by him be returned to him and he also had a used match cover which was used to convey notes returned to him.

Stewardess [ ] showed Stewardess [ ] the demand notes and then went to the cockpit where she displayed them to the captain of the aircraft. She thereafter remained in the cockpit where she prepared thirteen pages of notes concerning the hijacking.

The aircraft landed at Sea-Tac at 5:46 PM, PST, at which time $200,000. in twenty dollar bills, weighing 19 pounds, two back chutes and two chest chutes were given to him in a white canvas bag. The passengers then were allowed to deplane as were Stewardess [ ] and another stewardess.

The hijacker went to the lavatory just behind row 18 (the row he which he was sitting) and as he exited the lavatory he was seen carrying the briefcase on its side in both arms, with a 12"x16"x4" light-colored package on top of the briefcase.

SE 164-81

Stewardess [ ] then acted as a communications media between the Unsub. and the captain of the aircraft until about five minutes after the aircraft departed the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport when she was instructed to go to the cockpit by the Unsub.

b6
b7c

The hijacker's instructions after receiving the money were vague. He probably wanted to jump from the aircraft as soon as possible after the takeoff. The hijacker put two of the parachutes, a back pack and a front pack, on prior to take off. He also wanted the air stairs lowered prior to takeoff, which subsequently proved to be impossible. Finally the hijacker jumped as soon as practical after the stairs were lowered in flight. The hijacker was delayed from jumping by the trouble he experienced in lowering the air stairs and by the fact he was not provided a knapsack but rather a small white canvas bag which he had to affix to her person utilizing parachute shroud lines from an unused parachute.

The plane departed Sea-Tac at 7:36 PM. Some four or five minutes after take-off, [ ] was sent to the cockpit by the hijacker. Some ten minutes after she entered the cockpit, one of the officers received a call on the interphone from the hijacker, advising he could not get the air stairs down. The pilot then leveled off the aircraft and reduced the air speed. Within a very short time, the officer's panel showed that the stairs had been lowered and approximately five minutes later, (8:05 PM), the officer contacted the hijacker who said everything was okay. That was the last communication with the hijacker.

b7c

- At 8:11 PM, while the plane was at 10,000 feet, the crew experienced a pressure bump or oscillation and the Cabin Pressure Rate of Change Gauge also reacted violently and it was thought, at that time, that the hijacker might have left the aircraft.

When the aircraft landed at Reno, Nevada, a chest pack chute and a back type chute were found on the plane. The missing chest pack chute, sometimes referred to as an emergency chute, is a training pack "dummied up" to look like a good one. The missing back pack chute is non-steerable and anyone utilizing this type chute would have no chance of slowing down or picking his spot on which to land.

DB Cooper 24986

SE 164-81

Also located in seat 18 E of the aircraft at Reno, was a black clip-on tie which contained a tie clasp described as yellow gold in color with a white pearl circular stone in the center. The label in the tie bore the name "Towncraft" and bore Store #3, Penneys. The label in this tie showed it to be a "Snapper" patent type tie. Investigation in Las Vegas indicated that this type sold for about $1.50, that it was about a year to a year and a half old, and it was a favorite item for individuals such as waiters, busboys and bartenders. Stewardess [ ] has said that this tie was probably the Unsub's and other witnesses have indicated that he wore a similar type tie.

b6
b7c

Located in the ashtray utilized by the Unsub were eight cigarette butts, seven of which have been identified by the FBI Laboratory as Raleigh filter tip cigarettes and the eighth cigarette is probably the same. These cigarettes are sold in a "soft pack".

The two seats which she had observed to be occupied by the unknown subject were processed for fingerprints. In addition the telephone, the area around the rear door, the rear door and four plastic drinking glasses found in the trash receptacle by the back door were also processed for fingerprints. In addition, a cloth towel affixed to the rear of one of the seats reportedly occupied by the unknown subject was removed and examined by Reno Agents. On that towel was noted what appeared to be a short human hair.

The FBI Laboratory by communication dated December 9, 1971, advised that an examination of the towel submitted by the Las Vegas Office, disclosed a brown head hair clipping and a brown limb hair, both of Caucasian origin. The report continued that the head hair clipping is suitable for significant comparison results, but that the limb hair possesses too few unique microscopic characteristics to be of value for that purpose.

The Laboratory also advised that the hairs obtained from the towel have been mounted on a glass microscopic slide. They suggested that if microscopic comparisons between between the head hair clipping and a known head hair sample were desired, that the glass microscopic slide containing the hair clipping should be resubmitted to the Laboratory by the Las Vegas Office.

The contents of the ashtray, the towel and the microscopic slide were returned by the Laboratory to the Las Vegas Office and are being held by the Las Vegas Division as evidence.

LOGS BY NORTHWEST ORIENT AIRLINES, SEATTLE AND MINNEAPOLIS

SE 164-81

It is apparent from the following excerpts, taken from logs maintained by ground personnel on November 24, 1971, that the hijacker exited the airplane at 8:11 p.m. local time.

When the hijacker jumped, the air stairs were forced closed causing an increase in air pressure similar to shutting a car door with the windows up. As this pressure increase occurred the co-pilot turned to look at the cabin rate of climb meter and in doing so his communications ear plug was pulled from his ear.

The co-pilot's comments at this time were being recorded on a tape recorder which had previously been started on a time standard signal. Through careful play back and sequencing, the time of the pressure oscillation caused by the air stairs closing after Unsub departed was determined to be 8:11 p.m. local time.

Ransom money in the amount of $200,000 was made up entirely of used, random 20 dollar bills. It was obtained from the Seattle First National Bank, Main Office, and was part of a ransom package of $250,000. which had been maintained by the bank for such emergencies. The package measured approximately one foot by one foot by eight or nine inches and weighed 19 pounds.

A check of the Federal Aviation Administration flight section at Portland International Airport reflected that on November 24, 1971 between 8:00 PM and 9:00 PM, there was a ceiling of 5,000 feet, 3,500 feet broken clouds, and at 1,500 feet scattered and broken clouds at times with a wind of 12-14 knots. The temperature at the end of the air stairs at the time of the jump was approximately 0° C.

On October 5, 1972, [REDACTED] Northwest Orient Airlines, Minneapolis-Saint Paul International Airport, advised he authorized a finers fee of $25,000 total reward or 15% for any portion of the ransom money that is returned.

SEARCH AREA

DB 164-01

Northwest Airlines (NWA) Flight #305, departed Seattle-Tacoma International Airport (Sea-Tac), under hijack 11/24/71, at 7:36 PM. At the orders of the hijacker, the landing gear and flaps were down. After the plane was airborne, the hijacker and Stewardess [redacted] discussed the opening of the rear door and the lowering of the air stairs. In less than five minutes after take-off, the hijacker instructed Stewardess [redacted] to go forward into the First Class Section and close the curtain behind her and not to return to the rear compartment again.

b6
b7c

At 7:42 PM, the crew advised that the stair light was on, indicating that the hijacker was doing something with the air stairs. The plane, at that time, was flying at 7,000 feet.

The log contained an entry at 8:05 PM, indicating the crew had on two occasions, attempted to make contact with the hijacker but he did not reply. However, he then spoke over the PA system and said "everything is okay."

An analysis on 11/24 and 25/71, of the flight path of the aircraft, after it left Seattle, and the logs provided by NWA, suggested that the hijacker was still in the airplane as of 8:05 PM. At that time the plane, according to radar tracking by the U.S. Air Force, was located at a point north of the Pigeon Springs, Washington area and east of Ostrander, Washington. This would have been the northern most point when he was known to be on the aircraft.

At 8:11 PM, according to a log maintained by NWA, the crew reported that they were "getting some oscillations in the cabin, must be doing something with air stairs." An analysis as to the cause of this oscillation, also referred to as a "pressure bump" or "change in the cabin pressure" pointed to the probability that it was caused by the hijacker leaving the aircraft.

On 1/6/72, the NWA 727 which was actually involved in the hijacking, was flown to Seattle, by [redacted] for the purpose of conducting a test to see if the "pressure bump" experienced during the hijacking, was caused by something leaving the aircraft.

b6
b7c

The conclusion from that test was that the cabin pressure change occurred when the stairs were forced upward by the air pressure after the weight had been removed, according to [redacted] who was a member of the hijacked crew, and also a member of the crew when the test was performed, the occurrence was identical with the incident on the night of the hijack. Also the instrument in the cabin which reacted so violently on the night of the hijacking, also reacted the same way when the test was performed.

b6
b7c

[redacted] based on the test flight above, then prepared a memo showing the steps by which he arrived at the best probable bail out point of the hijacker, and plotted this area on a map. This information is set forth as follows:

b6
b7c

The attached plot indicates the envelope of possible landing points of the high jumper (HJ). It is based on the following:

- Aircraft position from USAF radar data from McChord AFB furnished by [redacted] b6 b7C
- Probable jump time (0411 GMT) from an analysis of the recorded communication from the flight relative to the cabin pressure fluctuation. Flight tests conducted on January 6 confirmed that the pressure fluctuation almost certainly occurred at the time the HJ left the airplane.
- Wind information from 10,000' MSL to the ground as determined by [redacted] NWA [redacted] b6 b7C
- Human body trajectories from data furnished by The Boeing Company (free-fall) and NWA [redacted] (parachute open condition) who is an expert parachutist. b6 b7C
- Time correlation from the above USAF radar information and from the NWA communications network tape recording.
- Airplane airspeed and altitude from the airplane's flight recorder.

The plot is explained as follows:

1. The heavy dashed line C-D-E-S defines the airplane's probable ground track.
2. Line G-I-J-K defines the westernmost, and Line L-M-N-O the easternmost probable airplane ground tracks based on the stated position tolerance of  $\pm 1.5$  nautical mile of the USAF radar plot.
3. Lines A-B, H-P, and Q-R are the average wind vectors between 10,000' MSL and the ground, and are the lines parallel to which the HJ would drift after the parachute had opened.
4. Line H-S-T defines the northernmost (earliest) points over which the HJ probably left the airplane. Line K-F-O defines the southernmost (latest) points over which the HJ probably left the airplane. The north-south span of possible jump positions is a product of the radar position tolerance of  $\pm 1.5$  mile, and the possible communication time determination tolerance of  $\pm 1$  minute.
5. The area within the boundary defined by Points H-P-Q-R-O-K-J-I-H marks the extreme limits of probable landing points based on the above tolerances. That is, assuming the highest probable degree of inaccuracy in aircraft position, jump time, wind vector, etc., all probable HJ landing points would lie within the area defined by this line.
6. If it is assumed aircraft position, jump time, wind vector, and other inputs used are all accurate (without allowance for the above stated tolerances):
  - a. The HJ's landing point would be at Point A if his chute did not open, or if he opened it so soon that the high speed caused chute damage that resulted in the equivalent of a free-fall to the ground. (The horizontal body trajectory due to it being at the same speed as the airplane at the moment of exit, has been ignored since it would be a maximum of 2000' along the airplane's track if the HJ free-fell all the way to the ground in the "least drag" (tucked) position.)

- b. If the chute was opened without damage immediately after the HJ left the airplane, he would drift with the wind along Line A-B and would land at Point D. The more expert he was, the longer he would probably free-fall (to limit his drift with the wind). The lowest probable altitude to which he would free-fall is 2500' MSL. If he free-fell to 2500' MSL, his landing would be at Point U.

Based on the above, the most favorable search areas, listed in their order of priority, would be as follows:

- At Point A.
- Along Line A-B, favoring the segment between U and B.
- South of Line A-B.
- North of Line A-B.

In addition to the above, the following are pertinent:

- The landing point is more likely to be south of Line A-B, and it is more likely to be in the northwest portion of area A-B-R-O-K-J-A than in the southeast portion thereof.
- It is substantially less likely that the landing point is north of Line A-B. If it is, the most probable point is south of the Lewis River, and in the southwest portion of the area defined by Points A-B-I-J-A.
- It seems highly unlikely-though possible-that the landing point is north of the Lewis River, but if it is, it is more likely to be in the southwest portion of the area defined by Points Q-M-V-I-H-P-Q.

If there are any questions relative to the above, they should be referred to the undersigned.

On 11/26-25/71, based on information available from NWA, a search area was laid out in the southwest portion of the State of Washington, which was bounded by Woodland, Washington, on the west, Amboy, Washington, on the east, Kalama, Washington on the north and a point seven miles north of the Columbia River, on the south. The prime search area was in an area seven miles east and seven miles west of an eight mile long flight line of the hijacked aircraft, bounded by an area two miles north of Lake Merwin and the Lewis River on the north, Amboy on the east, Woodland, on the west and Battle Ground, Washington, on the south. The search area was divided into six sectors. Four helicopters and seven fixed-wing aircraft were utilized in an intensive, gridded air search of the prime area and a well executed search of the secondary search area on 11/26, 11/27 and 11/29/71.

Ground units of local law enforcement personnel and Bureau Agents, made a house-to-house canvas of every dwelling and business establishment on every road in the prime search area from 11/25/71 through 12/3/71. Most of the roads in the full search area were also intensively covered in a door-to-door canvas, with negative results. All leads developed in this search which was coordinated with the air search, were checked with negative results. One item concerning a small aircraft flying in the vicinity of two private airfields west of Yacolt, Washington, was completely checked and it was found that the aircraft in question was a private plane flown by a known private pilot in the area and the flight took place the evening of 11/23/71.

All sightings from the air were checked by ground units with negative results. Lake Merwin was patrolled from the lake by two boats for its entire 42 mile length, of navigable water and also to the full extent of its 80 mile length, with negative results.

Based upon information received from the Seattle Division on November 25, 1971 preliminary steps were taken to alert all law enforcement agencies in Cowlitz, Lewis, Wahkiakum, and Clark Counties concerning the search which was to be instituted for the subject. A meeting was held with members of the Clark and Cowlitz County Sheriff's Offices and local agencies at the Woodland, Washington City Hall and Police Department which was designated as search headquarters in view of its proximity to the Woodland airport at which facilities were available for fixed wing aircraft and helicopters. Arrangements were made for helicopters and fixed wing aircraft to be available on November 26, 1971 and the search area was divided into seven sections, one of which was located in the Lewis River area of Cowlitz County and the others in the north-eastern section of Clark County.

On November 26, 1971 personnel of the Clark County Sheriff's Office, under the direction of Sheriff EUGENE COTTON, and [redacted] consisting of twelve cars and four aerial observers, seven cars of the Cowlitz County Sheriff's Office, and eleven deputies under Sheriff CHARLES E. GILL and [redacted]

[redacted] In addition, three officers of the Woodland, Washington Police Department and six Agents were at the scene:

On November 26, 1971, after law enforcement officers were briefed on facts known to that point and what was being sought and having been familiarized with the prime search area of 150 square miles, the various ground units were dispatched to Cowlitz and Clark Counties with instructions to contact all available residents and businessmen on every road in the assigned section to secure information concerning the subject. The description, then available, was furnished to all personnel involved in the search. Further instructions were given to the officers to request individuals contacted to contact their neighbors and acquaintances to insure that all residents of the prime search area were cognizant of the hijacking and the description of the subject.

On November 26, 1971 the banks of Lake Hemet, partly located in the prime search area, were completely patrolled by two boats of the Cowlitz County Sheriff's Office with all suspicious sightings personally checked. One sighting of a white object on the south side of the lake was unable to be checked on November 26, 1971 but on November 27, 1971 was checked by helicopter with negative results.

On November 26, 1971 two Army helicopters, one Bonneville Power Administration helicopter, and one Weyerhaeuser Company helicopter plus five fixed wing aircraft from Woodland and Vancouver, Washington were aloft over the search area for seven hours of total flying time. Several sightings of unidentified items were checked by ground contact with negative results.

On November 27, 1971 the search was continued with the same number of personnel, ground units, three helicopters and seven fixed wing planes. The search area on this day encompassed a 400 square mile area and was laid out based upon latest data furnished by Northwest Airlines re aircraft's position at time subject left the plane. An area averaging ten miles on the east and west sides of the airline flight path and extending from the vicinity of Kalama, Washington to the suburbs of Vancouver, Washington was gridded and criss crossed by the aircraft mentioned with negative results. All sightings of suspicious items were checked with negative results.

The ground search on November 27, 1971 consisted of contacts by personnel in ground units with as many individuals as possible in the search area.

On November 27, 1971, in addition to contacting all individuals in the search area all airfields with any aircraft or parachuting schools or activity were contacted from Vancouver - Camas, Washougal area to Woodland. A number of individuals contacted at these locations gave information pertaining to skydivers, pilots, clubs involved in skydiving and other information, all of which has been checked with negative results.

On November 28, 1971 the house to house canvass of business establishments and houses in the prime search area of 150 square miles was continued by Agents of the Seattle Division. All individuals contacted were queried concerning the subject and were shown composite drawings and given physical descriptive materials. The search area was gridded and close contact was kept with the control point until all streets, roads, highways, and passable byways were covered all with negative results.

On November 28, 1971, reports of planes flying at night on November 23, 1971, in the vicinity of the airfields located at View, Washington, and in the vicinity of County Road 42 and Grantham Road in Clark County as well as other small airports in Clark and Cowlitz Counties were checked with all flights being explainable and normal.

On November 29, 1971, the area from Woodland, Washington, up the Lewis River Road to Cougar, Washington, and Yale Lake was covered on a house to house basis, all locations being in Cowlitz County. The business establishments and private homes contacted all had information concerning the subject and his physical description.

Further house to house coverage was afforded in an area near the midpoint of a circle specified by Northwest Airlines as the center of the suspected area in which the subject exited the airplane. Every house and business establishment in a 20 mile square area was contacted or recontacted and it was found all individuals contacted had information on the subject but no information of value other than that previously reported.

On November 30, 1971, all doctors, clinics, hospitals, and agencies which could render medical assistance to an individual who could have broken limbs or severe abrasions from being in a heavily wooded area were contacted and were also circularized with a composite photograph and description of the subject in Clark, Lewis, Cowlitz, Wahkiakum, and Skamania Counties.

A Bonneville Power Administration helicopter and one fixed wing aircraft upon a partial clearing of the weather continued an air search concentrating on the area which has a center point of a circle as furnished by Northwest Airlines. The search took in an area approximately 150 miles square and nothing of a positive nature was found.

Further house to house canvassing was conducted by Agents in the prime search area near the center of the circle as provided by Northwest Airlines. Nothing of significant value other than that already secured was found.

On December 1, 1971, a fixed wing aircraft from Woodland, Washington, was aloft and covered an area during a slight period of clear weather which encompassed the area from Woodland, Washington, north to Silver Lake in Cowlitz County, a distance of 40 miles and a section 10 miles on either side of the flight path of the hijacked aircraft. While this was being conducted, Agents in ground units were conducting door to door canvass in the vicinity of the southerly end of Cowlitz County. Total area covered by air was 800 square miles with negative results.

On December 2, 1971, ten Agents walked in a defined search pattern the area in the immediate vicinity of the circle of search as set forth by Northwest Airlines. The terrain was found to be composed of fields which are being farmed and a number of impenetrable thickets which have fallen logs, hidden beaver ponds, and creeks and generally hazardous and most difficult terrain to search on foot. It was noted that in getting into the thicket and underbrush growth, it was so heavy that even if an item was five yards from the observer, it could easily be missed due to overgrowth problems. The area covered in this physical terrain search was 1 1/2 miles long and 2/3 of a mile wide and took approximately five hours. Negative results in the search.

FIRST TERRAIN SEARCH

The purpose of the first terrain search was to search for possible evidence left behind by Unsub and to find the remains of Unsub assuming he made an unsuccessful jump. The first terrain search commenced at 2:00 PM on March 21, 1972 with 218 Army troops including officers, 20 Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and 9 helicopters. The area to be searched covered approximately 25 square miles.

Due to snowfall in search area on March 25, 1972, the search was temporarily held up. Army troops remained on location and the search resumed at 12:00 Noon on March 26, 1972. The search was temporarily discontinued at 12:00 Noon March 30, 1972 to allow search personnel to rest and enjoy the Easter Holiday. The Army search equipment was retained at search headquarters at Merwin Park.

The search recommenced 7:15 AM, April 8, 1972, with 265 Army personnel and 20 Agents. Snow, sleet and freezing rain hampered search on April 12, 1972. Remaining areas to be searched were reached only by helicopter insertion of search personnel and landing zones in most cases were under 6 to 12 inches of snow.

The search of the entire area was completed at 1:00 PM, April 17, 1972 with nothing found.

HUNTERS SEARCH

Prior to the 1972 hunting season, the following information was made available to Washington State Game Wardens who supervise the area into which the hijacker parachuted:

"On November 24, 1971, a man parachuted into the below-described area with $200,000 in $20 bills. If, while camping or hunting, you should discover any evidence concerning this skyjacking please contact the nearest FBI office.

SE 164-81

AREA INVOLVED

"Bound on the west by US 5, bound on the south by the Columbia River, bound on the north by the Kalama River, and bound on the east by the Skamania-Clark County line.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR:

"1) The remains of a man, possibly dead for one year.

2) The remnants of a parachute, harness or parachute shroud lines.

3) 10,000 $20 bills wrapped in a parachute canopy, all serial numbers are known and can be identified.

4) Deteriorated raincoat or overcoat.

5) Small briefcase or attache case.

REWARD:

"$25,000.00 total or 15% of any lesser portion of the ransom money that is returned has been offered by Northwest Orient Airlines.

"If any information concerning this matter is discovered, it should be reported to the FBI Office at Seattle, Washington, area code 206; telephone MA. 2-0460 collect, or to the nearest FBI Office, which can be found by checking in front of your telephone directory."

The above information in the form of letters was distributed to hunters by game wardens.

The remains of JAMES ANNIS were found by hunters near Cougar, Washington on November 5, 1972. ANNIS, 16 years old in 1971, was reported missing on November 13, 1971 while hunting. He was positively identified by dental examination.

Several leads were received as the result of the publicity afforded this case by the news media and the Washington State Department of Game Wardens. These leads all received expeditious and thorough attention but all results were negative.

SECOND TERRAIN SEARCH

In attempt to determine the accuracy of the first search area, the following was learned:

The first search area was calculated using a system of plotting known as "GEOREF" (i.e. Geographical Reference) which has a plotting error of plus or minus one mile. A new plotting system using a computer generated latitude and longitude has a plotting error of plus or minus 1/2 mile. Using the new system, [redacted] Northwest Orient Airlines [redacted] plotted a new course for the NORJAK airplane and a new search area based on the new course. The new search area based on the new course. The new search area is partially outside the first area. (See maps.)

b6
b7c

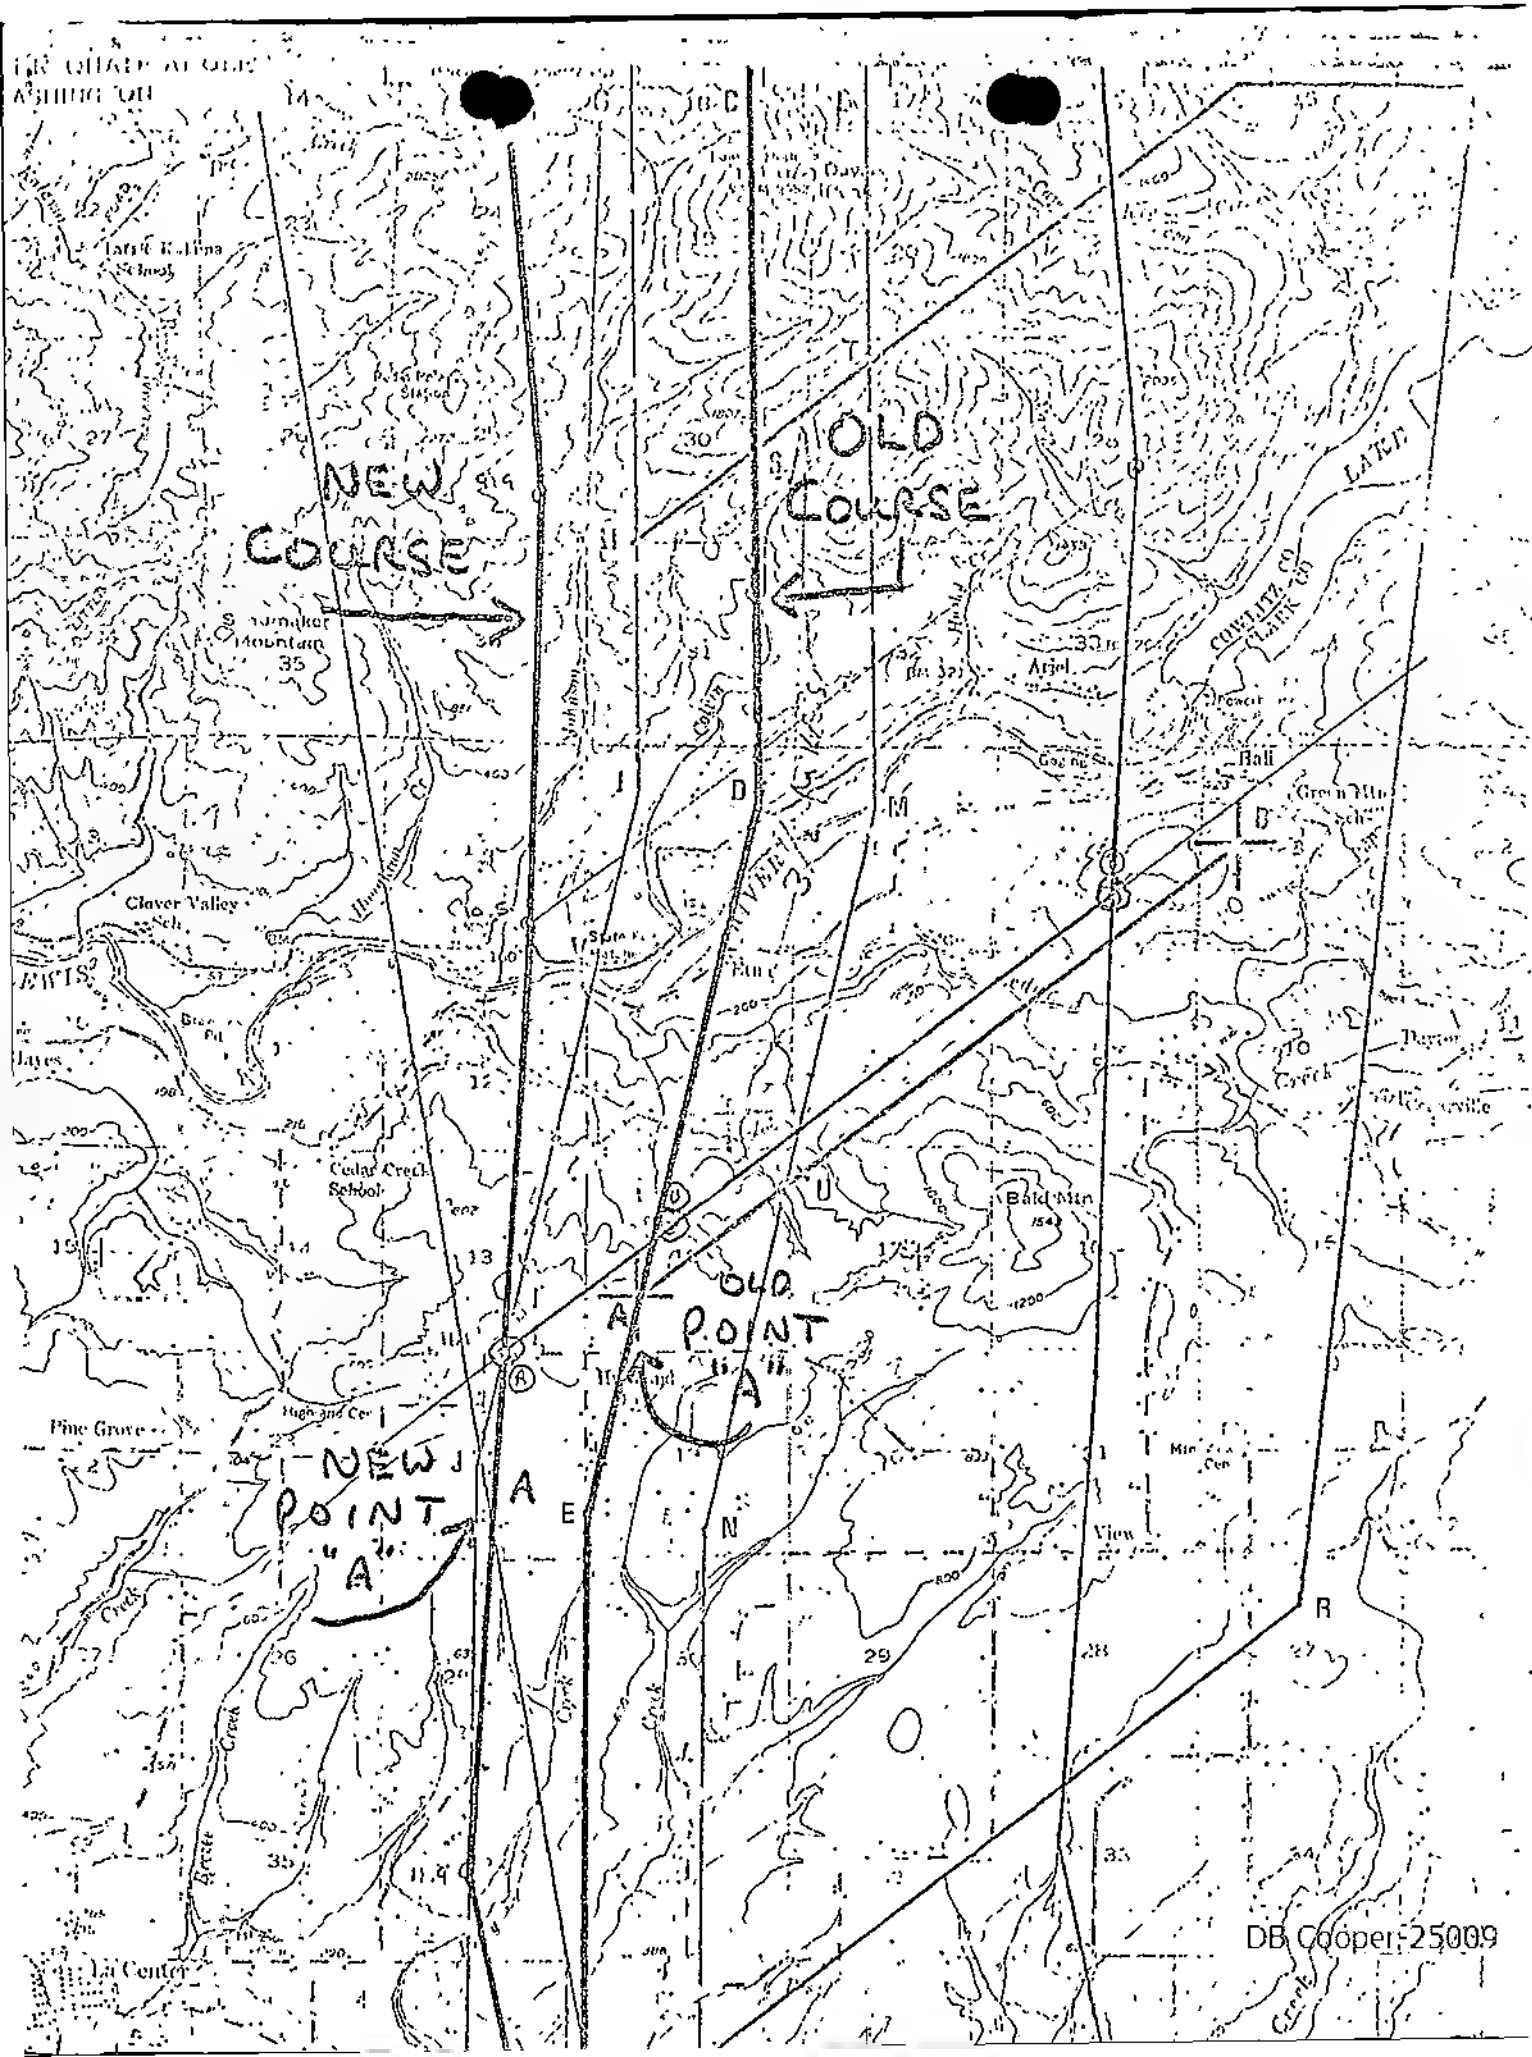

It is felt that if Unsub's parachute opened, he is no longer in the southwest Washington area, but if his parachute did not open he would be in a corridor along the flight path. The time of jump is known, and an area approximately one mile by seven miles represents the area Unsub would have landed in if his parachute did not open.

Because some of the above corridor fell in the old or first terrain search area, only an area 2 miles by 1/2 mile was searched during the second terrain search.

The second terrain search commenced March 12, 1973, and involved 10 Special Agents of the Seattle Office. It was temporarily interrupted on March 16 and resumed again March 26; 1973.

The second terrain search was completed March 29, 1973 with nothing found.

FAA RECORDS

The Seattle Division advised the Bureau by Nitel on June 8, 1972 of the following information concerning the Federal Aviation Administration records for licensed pilots:

In considering the feasibility of checking FAA records for all licensed pilots, the Oklahoma City Office has advised that FAA Aeronautical Center maintains records of over 850,000 licensed pilots. These records are filed by name or license certificate number, but not by age. Further, they do not include photographs of each licensed pilot. The FAA at Oklahoma City advises that records are permanently maintained at FAA on those pilots whose licenses have been revoked, expired or lapsed.

BOEING FILE REVIEW

THE BOEING COMPANY

b3

The Boeing Company made available their personnel files of Boeing personnel who were members of the 727 Air stairs test team and officers of the Boeing Skydivers Club, which went out of existence in 1960 or 1961. These files were reviewed and several of the personnel on the list were interviewed to determine if anyone involved in the air stairs test could have been the hijacker and to determine any information they might have possessed as to the identity of Unsub, all with negative results.

On July 31, 1972, [redacted] a Boeing Company [redacted] made available a copy of the Boeing Test Summary Report pertaining to the flight configuration of the 727. The following flight configuration was used during the Boeing air stairs test:

Speed - 125 knots
Flaps - 25° down
Altitude - 10,000 feet.

In Seattle report of SA CHARLES E. FARRELL, February 16, 1972, it is noted that Unsub requested the following flight configuration prior to taking off from Seattle-Tacoma Airport:

Gear down
Flaps - 15° down
Altitude - 10,000 feet
Aft door open and the air stairs down.

When it was explained to the hijacker that the plane could not take off with the air stairs down, he reportedly said in a low voice, "Yes they can, but the cockpit can put it down after they get airborne."

On July 26, 1972, [redacted] advised that if the hijacker was a member of, or had consulted with a member of the Boeing Test Team, he would have known that the 727 could not have taken off with the air stairs down, nor would it have been necessary since the air stairs can easily be lowered in flight.

Stewardess [redacted] remarked upon being interviewed shortly after the hijacking, that the air stairs and the controls for the air stairs were the only functions of the aircraft that the hijacker did not seem to be fully aware of.

RALEIGH CIGARETTES

Unsub is allegedly a smoker of Raleigh filter-tip cigarettes. The search of the plane involved in NORJAK conducted at Reno, Nevada, revealed eight Raleigh cigarette butts found near Unsub's seat.

On the possibility that Unsub may save Raleigh coupons and redeem them regularly, the following investigation was conducted:

On January 11, 1973, [redacted] [redacted] Coupon Redemption Center, Brown and Williamson Tobacco Company, Hill Street, Louisville, Kentucky, advised this is the only Raleigh coupon redemption center. Except for local residents who may come to the center personally, all redemptions are by mail with average of six million coupons received daily.

FIRST SKYJACKING UTILIZING PARACHUTES

In an effort to determine the origin of the D.B. COOPER hijacking (i.e. the original idea behind the skyjack plan), a review was conducted of the magazine and newspaper articles written just prior to NORJAK.

The below quoted newspaper article described the first known skyjacking in which a parachute was used by the skyjacker.

The Seattle Times, November 13, 1971:

"Calgary, Alberta - (UPI) - A masked hyjacker carrying more than 40 pounds of dynamite was knocked unconscious today by an Air Canada crewman wielding a fire ax. The crewman's action 3,000 feet in the air ended a six-hour hijacking which skipped back and forth over the United States - Canadian border.

"The hijacker, reported in fair condition today with a possible skull fracture, was putting on a parachute to bail out of the DC8 over Calgary when he was struck by the ax.

"The hijacker, carrying a shotgun in addition to the dynamite, took control last night of the Calgary to Montreal flight carrying 123 persons. Claiming to be a member of the Irish Republican Army, the man demanded $1.5 million and a free passage to Ireland. (A touring I.R.A. spokesman denied that the hijacker belonged to the I.R.A.)

"After landing in Great Falls, Montana, the man accepted $50,000 ransom. The plane took off, landed again at Great Falls, and the man let the passengers to unharmed. But, he ordered the plane with its five-member crew to take off again. Indecision on the part of the hijacker led the plane back and forth across the border before he apparently decided to jump.

"An Air Canada official said that as the hijacker was preparing to jump, [REDACTED]

b6
b7c

SE 164-81

jumped him and [ ] came up behind him and 'let him have it with a fire ax.'

b6
b7c

"Flight 812 made its first landing at Great Falls after the hijacker had taken over 40 miles west of Winnipeg, Manitoba. There it was refueled and the $50,000 was handed to the hijacker by a policewoman. The money was raised by bankers as the plane circled the city for two hours.

"The plane then took off for a scheduled stop in Regina, Saskatchewan, to let the 114 passengers aboard disembark. The plane did not land in Regina, however, but turned back and set down in Great Falls again where the passengers and three of the nine crew members were set free.

"On its second take-off from Great Falls, Air Canada officials said the hijacker wanted to be taken to New York City before proceeding to Ireland. The man, described as 5-feet-7, dark-haired and in his 30's then decided he wanted to go to Phoenix, Arizona, but finally settled for Calgary.

"At Great Falls Airport, Gov. FORREST ANDERSON and hundreds of onlookers stood by. ANDERSON said he came to persuade the hijacker to surrender or at least release the passengers. He never saw the hijacker, however,"

The Seattle Post Intelligencer

"Calgary, Alta. - (UPI) - A masked man armed with a sawed-off shotgun and dynamite who could not make up his mind where he wanted to go was knocked out by a crew member early today to end a bizarre hijacking flight on an Air Canada DC 8.

"The hijacker was captured when a crew member struck him with a fire ax as the man was bending over to put on a parachute he was carrying, Air Canada said. A local hospital reported the hijacker suffered lacerations on his head.

"The plane - originally bound from Vancouver, B.C. to Montreal - was commandeered with 127 persons aboard.

SE 164-81

"It had flown back and forth between Canada and the United States at the orders of the hijacker who at first said he wanted to go to Ireland. He claimed to belong to the Irish Republican Army (IRA).

"The passengers were released on the second of two stops the hijacked plane made at Great Falls, Mont.

"Just before landing here [redacted] of the four-engine jet radioed that the hijacker was unconscious, Air Canada officials said. [redacted] however, called for bomb disposal experts to stand by.

b6
b7C

"Right after landing in Calgary the man was whisked away by ambulance.

"Earlier the man had extracted $50,000 ransom for the release of the passengers and most of the crew during the second time it landed at Great Falls.

"The guy was wearing a mask and holding what appeared to be dynamite and a sawed-off shotgun," an Air Canada spokesman said in Montreal.

"The hijacker first demanded $1.5 million ransom and a flight to Ireland. After hijacking the plane following a stop here, he ordered it to Great Falls where a policewoman carried two suitcases with $50,000 to the cockpit and they were raised by a rope [redacted]

b6
b7C

"The hijacker then ordered the plane to fly to Regina, Sask., where he said the passengers would be released, but after a half hour, the plane returned to Great Falls and the passengers were released there.

"While the plane was on the ground in Great Falls, an unidentified FBI agent tried unsuccessfully to talk the hijacker into giving up. The plane took on 130,000 gallons of fuel at Great Falls for the possible flight to Ireland.

"The plane took off for a second time with the [redacted] filing a flight plan for Phoenix, Ariz. But later the DC8 made a midcourse change and the plane headed for Calgary.

b6
b7C

DB Cooper 25022

SE 164-81

"Five crewmen, including a stewardess, remained on the plane.

"The passengers were taken by police van from the plane to the air terminal. Officers refused to let newsmen talk with them.

"Police said the hijacker warned the passengers not to talk about what happened on the four-engine aircraft or he would kill the crew. Officers said he had a transistor radio and was listening to local newscasts while the plane was on the ground.

"One passenger, a young woman, appeared distraught and was placed in a wheelchair after she was helped out of the plane.

"Stewardess [ ] told officials none of the passengers was aware of the hijack until the plane made its first landing here.

b6
b7c

"Policewoman [ ] brought the money to the hijacker. She said the money was provided by the First Westside National Bank of Great Falls. She refused to disclose who ordered the payment of the ransom.

[ ] an IRA representative touring Western Canada, told a Great Falls television newsman that his organization abhorred hijackings and disavowed the current attempt.

b6
b7c

"The plane landed at Great Falls International Airport, and the man gave [ ] 15 minutes to refuel and obtain the money. [ ] was ordered to circle the airport until the money was brought to the facility, about 100 miles south of the Canadian border.

b6
b7c

"The plane was carrying 115 paid passengers, three airline employees and a crew of nine."

SR 71 FLIGHT

U.S. AIR FORCE SR-71 AIRCRAFT

By communication December 3, 1971, the Sacramento Division advised that Beale Air Force Base, California, had offered, free of charge to the Bureau, use of an SR-71 aircraft to photograph terrain over which the hijacked airplane had flown on its trip to Reno.

This aircraft was described as an extremely sophisticated aerial reconnaissance plane which would photograph a strip 20 miles wide with photographic resolution of detecting objects on the ground 2 feet square. The film strip would then be reviewed by trained and qualified U.S. Air Force personnel.

By communication February 17, 1972 the Sacramento Division advised that photographic over-flights using SR-71 aircraft were conducted on five separate occasions with no photographs obtained due to limited visibility from very high altitude. [REDACTED] SR-71 Flights from Beale Air Force Base advised each such flight requires minimum of one week advance clearance with FAA due to sonic boom problem, specialized computer programming of aircraft, filing of flight plan and compliance with FAA requirements. Accordingly, weather on flight date cannot be accurately predicted. He stated no future flights over specific area where hijacker possibly exited could be scheduled since SR-71 aircraft committed for military missions.

b6
b7c

By communication, November 1, 1972, Seattle Division advised the Bureau and Norfolk that Unsub had in his possession, prior to the time he jumped, the following paraphernalia:

- A. Parachute Rack Pack
- B. Parachute Chest Pack
- C. Briefcase or attache case
- D. Dark overcoat
- E. A 4x12x14 paper bag
- F. A pair of dark slip-on shoes
- G. Wrap-around sunglasses with dark rims
- H. 10,000 $20 bills

SE 164-81

Since none of the above was found when the plane was searched at Reno, Unsub must have taken them with him, or discarded some of them prior to jumping.

The above-described attache case supposedly contained a bomb. It is believed Unsub threw this attache case from the plane prior to his jumping, because of the numerous other items he had to carry. If he did throw it prior to jumping, it would fall almost directly in the path of the aircraft. The 727 air stairs were lowered sometime after 7:42 p.m. and Unsub jumped prior to 8:15 p.m. on November 24, 1971. The plane covered a distance of approximately 87 miles during this time.

The items could possibly be lodged in thickly wooded, mountainous terrain. The search area would cover a strip of land approximately 87 miles long by one-half mile wide. It has been suggested that infrared photography might possibly indicate non-living material, such as an attache case, in a darker shade than living material, thereby enabling the case to be found using infrared high resolution photography.

Since Unsub possibly discarded the attache case prior to jumping, he could not have buried or hidden it. The case would have dropped directly in the flight path of the plane and could possibly be visible from the air. The length of time Unsub would have to throw the case or any other time is limited to 33 minutes, and therefore the area covered is relatively small when compared to the entire flight path.

By communication November 9, 1972, the Norfolk Division advised that interviews were conducted with the following individuals assigned to the [redacted] [redacted] Langley Air Force Base, Virginia:

b6
b7c

[redacted]
[redacted]
[redacted]

It was the consensus of opinion among the three individuals above, each of whom has had considerable experience

DB Cooper-25026

with infrared imagery, that efforts to locate the attache case by this means would probably prove futile. The terrain, as described, would neutralize any effort, particularly if tall trees and mountains are part of its makeup. Further explained was the necessity for the presence of heat which would need to be generated by the object (attache case) in contrast to the surrounding terrain for successful infrared high resolution photography. The size of the attache case provides a poor target for any type of aerial photography, including visual photography.

All three individuals interviewed continued to express their negative feelings as to the success of either of the aerial photography procedures in this particular instance.

The Alexandria Division was requested to determine the feasibility of routing a visual aerial photography training mission over the area of interest. Alexandria advised by airtel dated February 8, 1973, that [redacted] [redacted] was contacted and he advised that he had made inquiry into this matter and stated that in the event Seattle wished to have military assistance in this matter then Seattle should request the Director to submit a letter of request to the Special Assistant to the Secretary of Defense, Office of the Secretary of Defense, Pentagon, Washington, D.C. 20301. In this letter the full particulars of the matter should be set forth as well as whether or not the Bureau or Department of Justice is willing to observe the additional cost if any to the Air Force. [redacted] advised that he could not state positively that the request would be granted, however, advised that it was his opinion that if this were to be a reimbursable project, that it would probably receive more favorable action. However, in any event, upon receipt of the letter a conference would be held within the appropriate military organization to ascertain the feasibility of such missions and the Bureau would be properly notified.

In view of the above information no further request was made to have a visual aerial photography training mission at this time. Consideration may be given to this type of survey if new methods or monies become available.

To Whom It May Concern:

A few months ago I saw a composite drawing in the Press Telegram of a suspect in the ransoming and hijacking of an airliner from the Washington state area. He subsequently bailed out with the money and was never found.

The striking resemblance of your drawing to a fellow that I worked with in the 1950-52 years has been bothering me because of his age, size and background. My suspicions are merely that and are not based on any facts at my disposal at this time. I feel his character, background, mode of living, make him a likely suspect.

RE NEW SUSPECT OWEN REYNOLDS

[REDACTED]
 Bellflower, California, directed a letter to the Los Angeles Office and was subsequently interviewed. He advised as follows:

He is of the opinion that OWEN REYNOLDS, a person with whom he worked in the early 1950's is a good likeness to the Unknown Subject in this matter. He bases this opinion on the fact that the mouth, nose, and hairline of the artist's conception resembles those of REYNOLDS. He recalls REYNOLDS was once married and resided in Seattle, Washington, and had claimed to have survived three air crashes while serving in the United States Air Force during World War II. He recalled REYNOLDS had claimed to have had a jukebox route in the Seattle area before coming to California.

He knew REYNOLDS was living beyond his means, to gamble, and to consider himself a lady's man. REYNOLDS had indicated he had several prior marriages and the last being [redacted] name unknown, in the Long Beach, California, area. During the time he worked with REYNOLDS, he had often claimed to be intimately involved with several airline stewardesses.

REYNOLDS was constantly suspected by employers of confiscating receipts, and at one time a large amount of cash disappeared and REYNOLDS had related to him about a trip he had made to Mexico City, Mexico, where he had considerable money gambling.

[redacted] stated he has not seen REYNOLDS since the early 1950's; however, he had seen an artist's conception shortly after the hijacking and had immediately noted a similarity in physical features between those of the Unknown Subject and REYNOLDS. He felt the possibility of REYNOLDS being identical with the hijacker was so remote, at that time, he neglected to notify authorities; however, since he recently learned this matter had not been solved, he thought he should advise the FBI.

He was unable to provide any specific information regarding a complete name, former addresses, birth data, but stated REYNOLDS had been a member of [redacted] Artesia, California. He described REYNOLDS as follows:

Sex	Male
Age	Mid-40's

Dear Sir:

I telephoned SA [ ] to report possible relationship between the sky-jack between Reno and Portland or Seattle about 1½ to 2 years ago, wherein the sky-jacker made a successful get-away with $250,000 (as nearly as I can recall) and has not been identified or located, and the sadistic rapist in San Francisco a week ago. (Sacramento Bee newspaper clipping enclosed.)

About 1½ years ago, in Fresno, I had some business with [ ] who mentioned that he formerly made frequent airplane trips between Reno and Portland and Seattle, and on several of these flights he became acquainted with a person, known to him as [ ] who apparently made frequent flights, knew the country "like the back of his hand," and [ ] considered [ ] an excellent suspect for the successful (?) up until now - hi-jacker.

Sadistic Rapist Attacks Napa Woman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A nationwide description has been issued of a man without a navel who police believe raped, beat, stabbed and shot a Napa woman in a hotel here, officials said.

"It's one of the more perverse and sadistic incidents we've had," Inspector Chris Sullivan said Wednesday. "It was definitely set up. He already had a chain, handcuffs and tape in the room when he brought her there."

Victim 'Mutilated'

The woman, 25, is hospitalized in stable condition. Sullivan said she was mutilated, "her buttocks beaten raw" and a bullet creased her forehead.

He said she told police she accepted a shared cab ride with a man. She said when they arrived near his hotel he shoved a gun into her side and forced her to accompany him.

The woman was assaulted for a 22-hour period on the 19th floor of the Holiday Inn on Kearny St., Sullivan said.

Left Nude, Bound

The woman told police the man left Wednesday morning, saying he had to catch an airline flight. She later managed to reach the hallway, nude and still bound, where she was discovered by a chambermaid, Sullivan said.

He said the assailant had registered under the name Henry H. Cooper of Reno, Nev. "He spoke with a western twang, dressed in expensive western clothes and cowboy boots and was loaded with $100 bills."

"But the most unusual thing about him was that he didn't have a belly button," Sullivan added. "It's not impossible, I understand, if he had surgery for a hernia as a youngster."

Hijack-Hoaxer Pays Back Lots of Booty

SEATTLE (AP) — A Bremerton man who posed as sky-jacker "D. B. Cooper" in an attempt to extort $45,000 from a newsman has paid back $4,500 according to his lawyer.

A hoax Cooper interview reportedly was being considered for the cover of Newsweek magazine before the authorities uncovered the scheme. Donald Sylvester Murphy later was convicted on a federal extortion charge.

Murphy's attorney, Tony Savage, says Murphy got only $9,000 from Karl Fleming, former Newsweek bureau chief in Los Angeles.

And Murphy believes he can raise the balance of the money he got from Fleming, Savage has told U.S. District Court Judge Walter McGovern. Savage says the major share of the extortion money went to William Lewis, Bremerton, and another man who wasn't charged in the case.

Lewis was sentenced to three years and Murphy two. A federal appeals court Friday upheld Murphy's conviction. Judge McGovern, however, has postponed Murphy's departure for McNeil Island Federal Penitentiary for two months.

Re Seattle report of SA CHARLES E. FARRELL dated 2/16/72, and Los Angeles tel call to Seattle 10/2/73.

On 10/1/73, [redacted] in Torrance, California who resides at [redacted] Hawthorne, California, advised the Los Angeles Division as follows:

b6
b7C

On 9/26/73, he and his [redacted] in Northern California in an area in the Pulmas Forest about 20 miles from Honey Lake, California. [redacted] had noticed a piece of orange material protruding from beneath a bush. Upon removing the material from beneath the bush they found it to be a portion of a parachute bound up with parts of a nylon cord line, so that it was about the size of a football. Other portions of the parachute as well as short pieces of nylon cord were also located under the bush.

b6
b7C

[redacted] made available a portion of the parachute which they had found, which he described as about one fifth of the parachute. Examination of this portion of the parachute revealed it to have white and orange panels. He also made available several short pieces of white nylon cord appearing to be cut up sections of shroud.

b6
b7C

A review of referenced Seattle report pages 229-230 reveals they two parachutes missing from the victim aircraft upon its arrival in Reno, Nevada, were described as white in color. Neither parachutes were described as having any orange panels.

Inasmuch as the portions of the parachute previously submitted by [ ] had white and orange panels and therefore do not match the description of the parachutes, utilized by the unknown subject in this matter, no further investigation is being conducted by the Los Angeles Division, and that portion of the parachute furnished by [ ] will be returned to him.

Dear [redacted]

This letter is in regards to the parachuting skyjacking on November 24, 1971 of a Northwest Airlines plane between Seattle, Washington and Reno, Nevada. This case has, so far, not been solved and the skyjacker who collected $200,000 is known only as D.B. Cooper.

In a telephone conversation on November 8, 1973 with [redacted] at Northwest Airlines, St. Paul, Minnesota, we discussed rewards offered in this case. He told me of rewards having been offered of 10% of recovered amounts, or possibly $25,000 if all is recovered. [redacted] also told me of a Seattle newspaper offering $5000.

b6
b7C

By telephone conversation on November 6, 1973 and personal meeting on November 8, 1973, [redacted] gave information to special agent [redacted] of the Wilshire Office of the F.B.I. in Los Angeles. This information concerned possibilities of a [redacted] as a suspect in the November 24, 1971 skyjacking. Since November 8, 1973 we have had other contacts with Special Agent [redacted]

Until the November 8, 1971 meeting between Special Agent [redacted] and [redacted] had been presumed [redacted] on November 21, 1973 (three days before the skyjacking). We gave evidence that he is alive and also clues that there might be a link between him and the skyjacking.

Dear [redacted]

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter dated December 5, 1973, wherein you requested a list of serial numbers from the money paid to the hijacker of a Northwest Orient Airlines aircraft during November, 1971.

The list to which you refer contains the serial numbers from ten thousand twenty dollar bills and is quite lengthy. As the publication of this list has been limited, its distribution has been restricted to appropriate law enforcement agencies and financial institutions.

Your interest in this matter is appreciated and should any information concerning this matter come to your attention, please advise any local office of the FBI.

Very truly yours,

Photos of the captioned individual were previously displayed to witnesses in this matter and he was not found identical or similar to the hijacker. He is described by associates as a blond headed, blue eyed, light to medium complexioned, Caucasian male and not Latin in appearance.

Based on the above, it would not appear he should be considered as a likely suspect, however, in view of his highly unusual activities and the results of recent extensive investigation at Los Angeles, it would appear investigation is warranted to positively eliminate him as a suspect in this matter and to ascertain if he is the subject of any other crimes, either Federal or local.
